COURT GRANTS PACKERS DELAY

Judge Carpenter Postpones Criminal Case Until Dec. 6.

WILL SEEK FURTHER TIME

Proceedings Will Be Instituted Before the United States Supreme Court on Dec. 4 to Secure Another Stay. Court Suggests That Selection of Jurors Begin Next Monday, but Counsel for Indicted Beef Barons Objects.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Judge George A. Carpenter in the United States district court granted the indicted Chicago packers a delay in their criminal trial until Dec. 6, pending proceedings for a defendants before the United States supreme court.

Counsel for the packers will seek further delay when the federal supreme court reconvenes at Washington, Dec. 4, at which time a motion for stay order will be presented. Judge Carpenter suggested that the selection of jurors for the trial begin next Monday and that no witnesses be called until the supreme court had ruled on the packers' motion. This is objected to, however, by Attorney John S. Miller of counsel for the defendants.

"If the jury was selected and it took two weeks to get this matter decided by the supreme court," said Mr. Miller, "there would be further delay if a stay order was entered over it. I would not be wasted. Then, too, I understand that the jury will be ordered locked up. We wish to avoid any such thing."

United States District Attorney Clarkson arose at this juncture and went to the court of a precedent in the existing situation. "You refer to the Wilson case," interrupted Judge Carpenter. "Unless there is serious objection to the matter I go over until Dec. 6 at 10 o'clock." With this ruling the brief court proceedings in the case were terminated.

ONE BANDIT ROBS MAIL

Last Line Train in South Carolina Loses Registered Letters.

Columbus, S. C., Nov. 25.—A masked white man robbed the mail car of Atlantic Coast line train No. 55 between Myrtle and this city, took the registered letters, stopped the train and jumped off just before the train reached the city limits.

The value of the registered mail is not known, but the letters are said to contain several thousand dollars. There is no clue to the identity of the robbers. The train, westbound from Wilmington, reached the Royster block house, about five miles from Columbus. It stopped for a moment, then proceeded toward the city. The robber is supposed to have boarded the train at Royster. Within a few moments after the train started he appeared in the mail car, held up the two mail clerks at the point of a pistol and took the registered letters. He then pulled the cord and leaped off as the train moved.

STUDENTS IN WILD RIOT

Many Cracked Heads Result of Raid on Theater.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 25.—University of Illinois students broke down the doors of the Orpheum theater in Champaign and sought to gain admission to the performance in progress. They were met by police and theater guards who renewed the attack at intervals.

The siege had as its climax the kind of a bonfire beneath the walls of the building. Employees of the house quickly discovered the blaze before it had an opportunity to spread and put out before the smell of burning had penetrated to the audience. It was averted a panic.

Many cracked heads were the result of the melee at the doors, the police and employees wielding clubs with terrific effect on the surging mob.

ANY KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Dies Terribly Mangled in Disaster at Liverpool.

Liverpool, Nov. 25.—Thirty-three men are known to have been killed upwards of one hundred injured in a boiler explosion which occurred at the oil cake mills of J. Bibby & Co. The force of the explosion was terrific that the roof of the great building was blown off, while the walls and crumbled. An outburst of fire followed.

Nearly four hundred workers were engaged in the building at the time. Bodies of those in or near the boiler room were horribly mangled, some of them being thrown into the streets, together with bricks and debris.

Bishop Moore's Wife Dead.

Cincinnati, Nov. 25.—Mrs. David Moore, wife of Bishop Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church, died here. She had been ill for a number of months and the end was not unexpected. She was well known throughout the country as a missionary worker.

TAFT AGREES TO PRIMARY IN OHIO

Accepts Challenge for Preferential Presidential Choice.

FRESH IMPETUS TO CONTEST

Secretary Hilles Makes the Announcement at the White House and Indicates Are for Lively Fight Over the Primary Proposition in the Republican National Committee When That Body Meets Next Month.

Washington, Nov. 25.—President Taft is willing to agree to the holding of a presidential preference primary in Ohio. To that extent he is ready to accept the challenge of the La Follette Republicans to settle the Republican nomination for the presidency by a popular primary vote.

This announcement was made at the White House by Secretary Charles D. Hilles. The effect has been to give fresh impetus to the fight for a presidential primary which the national progressive Republican congressional committee is starting in every state in which such a means of expressing the will of the people is not provided by law.

Now that the president has evinced his favor of the idea, so far as his home state is concerned, the progressives contend that he and the regular Republicans supporting him cannot withhold sanction of the plan in other states. The word from the White House makes certain the biggest kind of a fight in the national committee next month over the primary proposition.

Politics Seething in Ohio.

Ohio is seething with the clash of political parties and factions thereof. The progressives, headed by James R. Garfield, and the La Follette leaders are forming a formidable organization. Senator La Follette is to make the opening speech of his campaign at Cleveland next month, after which he probably will tour a dozen Western states.

The Ohio progressive newspapers took up the La Follette challenge to a presidential primary and have been pestering the regular Republicans daily with their demands to submit the question to the people.

Leaders of the regular Republicans, however, have refused to commit themselves until the views of the president could be ascertained. Now that he has given the word it is assumed that arrangements will be made without further difficulty for holding the primary. This concession by the president constitutes a decided jolt for the regular Republican leaders, who had decided to ignore the La Follette challenge completely. They hope that the president likewise would ignore it.

JOHN F. DRYDEN IS DEAD

Former Senator Founded Prudential Insurance Company.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 25.—John F. Dryden, founder of the Prudential Insurance company of America, a former member of the United States senate, and a multimillionaire, died at his home here of pneumonia, which developed after an operation which he underwent a week ago for the removal of gallstones.

Mr. Dryden was seventy-two years old. After leaving college he modeled an industrial insurance company, introducing this sort of insurance in the United States. His beginning was the Widows and Orphans' Friendly society, which later became the Prudential Insurance company of America.

Mr. Dryden was elected to the senate as a Republican in 1902 and four years later was the choice of the primaries for reelection.

CANCELS COAL LAND PATENTS

Valuable Property in Wyoming Obtained by Fraud.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Valuable coal lands in the Evanston (Wyo.) land district, aggregating 2,760 acres, are involved in a decree canceling patents issued on thirty-four soldiers' additional entries, announced by the commissioner of the general land office.

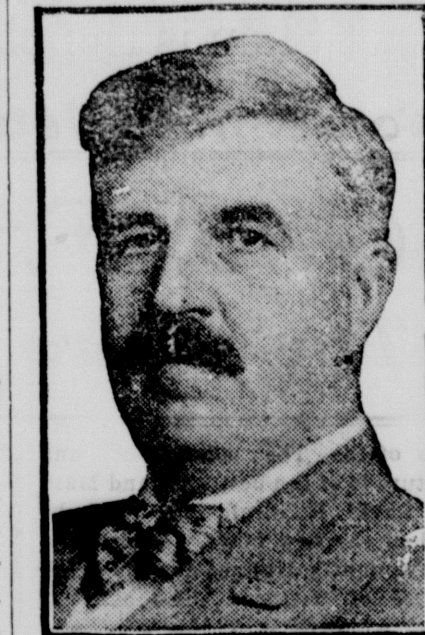

The decree comes from the circuit court of appeals, which reverses a decision of the district court and holds that the lands had been fraudulently acquired for the use and benefit of the Diamond Coal and Coke company. The coal recoverable on this land is estimated on a royalty of 1 cent a ton, or worth $300,000.

Editor Kills Himself.

Milwaukee, Nov. 25.—C. A. Mitchell, exchange editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel, committed suicide by taking poison at a local hotel. He was formerly well known in Montreal, where he was long a newspaper man. He was at his office all day, worked all night getting up "copy" for several days ahead, then went to the hotel and ended his life. There is no apparent reason for his suicide.

HENRY U. MUDGE.

Rock Island President Rejects Demands of Shop Employees.

SHOPMEN MAY QUIT WORK

Rock Island Officials Refuse to Accede to Demands.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Negotiations between a committee of international union officials and President H. U. Mudge and Second Vice President F. O. Melcher of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad were concluded without a settlement of the differences, which may result in the calling of a strike among the 8,000 shopmen employed by the railroad.

The demand of the shopmen was for an increase in wages of 2 cents an hour and changed conditions of employment.

It is said that no further conferences will be held between the labor representatives and railroad officials and a strike may be called at any time.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT ISSUES STATEMENT

Seeks to Discourage Booming Him for President.

New York, Nov. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, when asked regarding the report that he may be a candidate for president, told a World correspondent that a statement might be made as follows:

"The World says in a special dispatch from Oyster Bay:

"Colonel Roosevelt finds it difficult to understand the comment," the statement reads, "that has followed upon his article in the Outlook regarding national laws and business interests. He has said exactly the same thing many times before. He cannot see why it should be assumed that this article indicates he is ready to take any personal part in the coming campaign."

"It can be stated that Colonel Roosevelt has received many letters indicating the willingness of the writers to give him political support if such is desired. It can be stated that a certain United States senator offering the full Republican support of the senator in case Colonel Roosevelt should wish to be a candidate in the national campaign. To this letter Colonel Roosevelt has replied that he earnestly hopes the senator will not only refrain from any action looking to the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt, but also will prevent his friends from taking any such steps."

"No comment would be made by Colonel Roosevelt upon this announcement, which he insisted should be made in the third person. He would not name the senator to whom he referred."

$100,000 SHORTAGE ALLEGED

Treasurer of Federal Oil and Gas Company Arrested.

Pittsburg, Nov. 25.—Elmer W. Moore, treasurer of the Federal Oil and Gas company, was arrested on a capias issued by Judge Charles P. Orr of the United States circuit court. It is alleged that there is a shortage of $100,000 in the accounts of the company. Moore's bond was placed at $50,000, which a friend furnished.

About eight months ago, it is said, the stockholders of the company discovered that the funds were short $100,000. None of the officials could explain the discrepancy. Stockholders then had a receiver appointed. The issuance of the capias for Moore, it is alleged, was taken with a desire to clear up the situation.

SHANK TO SELL TURKEYS

Mayor of Indianapolis Continues Fight on High Prices.

Indianapolis, Nov. 25.—Following his recent action in selling several train loads of potatoes to the public at cost, Mayor Shank has determined that Thanksgiving turkey shall be within the reach of all classes.

The mayor is now in Southern Indiana, where he expects to purchase from 1,200 to 1,500 turkeys, ship them to this city and sell them at cost to housewives.

Forty-five Japanese Perish.

Tokyo, Nov. 25.—The Japanese delegation to the London conference of the League of Nations, consisting of forty-five members, died here.

CLARK EXPECTS GREAT SESSION

Speaker Will Soon Be on the Ground to Plan Program.

TRUSTS, TARIFF AND ECONOMY

These Three Will Be the Chief Issues. Senate Still Hopes to Elect a President Pro Tem.—Most Populous Congressional District Is in California. Wilson Not in Retiring Mood.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 25.—[Special.]—Speaker Clark is expected in Washington next Monday, which is one week before the second session of the Sixty-second congress convenes. It is expected that he will take up the subject of a program for the session with Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee and other leaders who will be here during the week. Although much power and responsibility was taken from the speaker by the rules of the present Democratic house, he is yet a powerful factor in shaping legislation.

Aside from that, Champ Clark has had so much experience in legislation that he would be consulted even if he were not speaker. Mr. Clark has said that he expects a very interesting session. It is presumed that the Democrats will early renew the effort to revise the tariff and give the president another opportunity to veto Democratic bills.

"The Eternal Triangle."

The problem of life has been denoted as the "eternal triangle." The term may be applied to congress. Trusts, tariff and appropriations will form the triangular subject of business and discussion the coming winter.

There must be legislation on all these subjects, or at least legislation must be attempted on some of them, and so far as the appropriations are concerned they must be passed. Trusts have already received their share of attention in preliminary hearings, and almost anything will start up a tariff discussion in either branch of congress.

Need a President Pro Tem.

The senate is likely to spend considerable time before the holiday recess in trying to elect a president pro tem. to take "Sunny Jim" Sherman's place when he wants to get away for a few days. Fifteen fruitless ballots were taken in the last session without an election.

The deadlock exists because the progressives will not vote for Senator Gallinger, who is the Republican caucus nominee. The senate desires to kill time, and it might just as well spend a few hours each day balloting for a presiding officer. There is an intimation that Senator Gallinger may break the deadlock by refusing to allow his name to remain longer before the senate.

Beats Ayres' Record.

It has always been supposed that Congressman Ayres of the Eighteenth New York district represented more people than any other man in congress. It is the populous Bronx district which has increased so rapidly during the past ten years and contains 482,568 people by the last census.

It now appears that Congressman Stephens of California has the largest district in point of population. He has 504,131 people. The district is only one county in size, but it contains the city of Los Angeles. If all his constituents should write to him at once he would be the busiest man who ever came to congress. The state of Nevada, with only 81,875 people, has two senators and one representative.

West Wants More Irrigation.

State Commissioner Schenck of Wyoming thinks that the government could do nothing better for the country than to enlarge its present irrigation work and redeem millions of acres of land. He says it is a more important matter than many of the propositions which have been before congress. It is probable, however, that before anything further is done along the lines of irrigation under government auspices congress will await results under the present law.

Congressional Biography.

A biographical directory of congress is soon to be issued which will contain a short history of every person who ever served in congress, including the members of the Continental congress. There have been sixty-two congresses since the government was organized.

A work of this kind was issued some years ago, but it was found faulty and full of errors. Henry M. Rose, assistant secretary of the senate, is superintending the new issue, and it is expected that it will be very complete.

Wilson For Retirement.

When a headline appears announcing that Secretary James Wilson favors retirement it does not mean that he is going to leave the agricultural department, but that he is in favor of legislation providing for the retirement of superannuated employees of the government.

We have about concluded that Secretary Wilson will never retire. He seems to have a grip upon the agricultural department that cannot be loosened. "They are used to me, and I am used to them," remarked the secretary when discussing the many retirement amendments which were in circulation about him.

Forty-five Japanese Perish.

Tokyo, Nov. 25.—The Japanese delegation to the London conference of the League of Nations, consisting of forty-five members, died here.

SENATOR WORKS.

Californian Assails Medical Inspection in Public Schools.

ATTACK ON MEDICAL TESTS

Senator Works of California Opposes Inspection in Schools.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—United States Senator John D. Works of California, addressing the National League for Medical Freedom here, assailed the allopathic school of medicine as seeking to form a trust to the exclusion of all other methods of healing and particularly denounced the medical examination of public school pupils.

His remarks, given plainly, were directed chiefly to that part of the school inspection involving girls in the upper grades.

SENATOR NELSON TO SUPPORT TAFT

May Lead Fight in Minnesota for the President.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Senator Knute Nelson is expected to direct the fight that is to be made in Minnesota in behalf of President Taft. The administration leaders believe that Senator Nelson will be able to procure the election in the Minnesota Republican state convention of four delegates at large who will stand by Mr. Taft through thick and thin. They do not look for these delegates to be instructed for Mr. Taft. On the contrary, they are of the opinion that the delegation will be uninstructed, but composed of men who will vote for the president's nomination on every ballot if there should be more than one ballot.

In his fight for Mr. Taft the senior senator, according to statements made here, will have the active assistance of State Chairman E. Smith, Frank B. Kellogg, Representative F. C. Stevens and practically all the federal officeholders in the state.

PICKS FLAWS IN DEFENSE

Alleged Slayer of Husband Weeps Under Prosecutor's Grueling.

Denver, Nov. 25.—Three hours sharp and merciless cross-examination of Gertrude Gibson Patterson by the state found flaws in important points for the defense.

Letters were introduced dated but a few days subsequent to the alleged harsh treatment by her husband which were couched by the defendant in the most affectionate terms. The state asserted that they were models of the letters a wife should address a husband.

Under the grueling of the special prosecutor Mrs. Patterson lost her listless, almost uninterested manner that has so far characterized her appearance during the trial. Twice she wept, then rallied and became defiant.

DELAY WEARS ON PRISONER

Eight Sworn Jurors So Far in McNamara Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.—Eight sworn jurors sat in the McNamara jury box, three having been added. To this number was added one man passed as to cause over challenge by the defense.

H. S. Beman, the man accepted as to cause, probably will engage one of the seven peremptory challenges remaining to the defense as soon as the jury box is again full.

Although J. B. McNamara is reported physically fit spectators at the trial have thought they noticed that he is wearing somewhat on him. He expressed a belief that a tariff guarding him was secretly a detective. Efforts were made to persuade him that this was not true.

SAYS TARIFF LEADING ISSUE

Speaker Clark Opposes Repeal of Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 25.—In an interview given out here Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, declares that he is opposed to the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and urges its vigorous enforcement. He believes the tariff will be the great issue of the 1912 campaign and that the Democrats, unless they nominate a man who will divide the party, will win the presidency on that issue.

JURY FINDS TWO KANSANS GUILTY

SAVES NEGRO FROM DEATH

Father of Assaulted Girl Tells Mob to Respect Kansas Law.

Spring Hill, Kan., Nov. 25.—While Clarence Davis, an eighteen-year-old negro, sat shackled in a pool hall here 200 members of a posse who captured him for an attempted assault on Ruth Fike, a fourteen-year-old girl, argued the question of taking the law into their own hands.

Speeches were made. At the conclusion a tall farmer pulled the negro to the door and assuming the leadership of the mob, cried: "Come on boys; we'll burn him at the stake."

Willing hands helped drag the negro to the street.

At this juncture J. A. Fike, father of the near-victim, arrived. Pushing aside the men, he reached the negro's side and addressing himself to the crowd, declared the mob must disperse and let the law take its course. After a conference the mob leaders turned the negro over to the county authorities, after being assured of a speedy trial for him.

NEARLY ALL MANCHUS SLAIN

Missionaries Give Details of Massacre at Sianfu.

Peking, Nov. 25.—Missionaries arriving in Peking from Tungchowfu, eighty miles northeast of Sianfu, give accounts of the recent revolution in the province of Shensi, where the anti-foreign element declared its intention to exterminate foreigners, Christians and Manchus, but only partly succeeded.

The rebel general at Sianfu, they say, issued a proclamation to the people not to harm merchants, foreigners or noncombatants, but only to destroy Manchus. The Manchus thereupon prepared for defense within their own walled section of the city. They withstood one attack by a mob of students and soldiers, but in an attack the next day nearly all the Manchus were slain.

MINERS' HEAD CRIES FRAUD

Report Asserts Ballots Disappeared in Union's Election.

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—The Columbus Dispatch says: One of the biggest sensations in the history of the United Mine Workers of America, involving the direct charge by President John P. White that fraud prevailed in the election contest for president of the order between himself and Tom L. Lewis last January and that the returns of forty-nine unions in Illinois disappeared after they had reached international headquarters in Indianapolis, has been disclosed. The ballots of the forty-nine Illinois unions represented the votes of more than 10,000 men. It is stated that the entire matter will be presented to the annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America in January.

A special investigation committee was appointed to look into the affair and its report has just been filed.

A Stock Anecdote.

Acquits Third Man on Charge of Tarring Teacher.

FOUR OTHERS PLEAD GUILTY

Man Who Lured the Woman to Lonely Place Where She Was Dragged From Buggy and Given Coat of Tar and Three Accomplices Receive Maximum Penalty of One Year Each in County Jail.

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 25.—Two of the defendants of the "tar party" case, John Schmidt and Sherril Clark, were found guilty of assault and battery by a jury in Judge Grover's court. A. N. Simms was acquitted.

Sentence on the two men was deferred to permit attorneys to argue a motion for a new trial.

Sentences of one year each in the county jail, the extreme penalty in Kansas for the offense charged, was passed on Everett G. Clark, Jay Fitzwater, Watson Scranton and Edward Ricord, confessed assailants of Mary Chamberlain, the schoolteacher who was tarred. These defendants were accused of the same crime. In addition to the sentence the court ruled that the men must pay the costs of the prosecution.

Clark, Jay Fitzwater, Watson Scranton and Edward Ricord, confessed assailants of Mary Chamberlain, the schoolteacher who was tarred. These defendants were accused of the same crime. In addition to the sentence the court ruled that the men must pay the costs of the prosecution.

An effort was made by attorneys for Fitzwater and Clark to have the court entertain a motion to grant an appeal to the supreme court on the ground that the sentence was excessive. This motion was not passed on.

Ricord already was in jail, having been surrendered by his bondsmen seventy-seven days ago. The court told the three other men they might have a reasonable time to straighten up their business affairs. Fitzwater says he will go to jail next week. Clark's immense business interests may make it necessary for him to be free for a month or more.

Scranton said he would be ready in a few hours and would not appeal his case.

The four who confessed expressed themselves as actually being glad the long period of waiting was over. Sherril Clark and John Schmidt hardly expected conviction, but they had no complaint to offer. They are still free on their bonds.

BEATTIE CONFESSES CRIME

Admits Murdering Wife Prior to His Execution.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 25.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr. before his death in the electric chair at 7:23 a. m., confessed to the murder of his wife. The confession evidently was made at the eleventh hour when Beattie finally became convinced that all hope of escaping the electric chair had passed.

There was no delay in preparing for the end. Beattie took his place, the prison surgeon and the electricians adjusted the straps, a dozen clamps were quickly thrown into place and snapped. The cap, resembling a leather football head harness, was adjusted and the men stepped back.

The warden raised his hand. Instantly Beattie's body stiffened with such violence that the straps creaked with the strain, the clamps rattled as though they were castanets in the hands of death and then that which once had been Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., relaxed.

It was just 7:23 a. m. when the shock was applied. One minute later Beattie was dead.

COURT GRANTS PACKERS DELAY

Judge Carpenter Postpones Criminal Case Until Dec. 6.

WILL SEEK FURTHER TIME

Proceedings Will Be Instituted Before the United States Supreme Court on Dec. 4 to Secure Another Stay. Court Suggests That Selection of Jurors Begin Next Monday, but Counsel for Indicted Beef Barons Objects.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Judge George A. Carpenter in the United States district court granted the indicted Chicago packers a delay in their criminal trial until Dec. 6, pending proceedings for the defendants before the United States supreme court.

Counsel for the packers will seek further delay when the federal supreme court reconvenes at Washington, Dec. 4, at which time a motion for stay order will be presented. Judge Carpenter suggested that the selection of jurors for the trial begin next Monday and that no witnesses be called until the supreme court had ruled on the packers' motion. This was objected to, however, by Attorney John S. Miller of counsel for the defendants.

"If the jury was selected and it took two weeks to get this matter decided by the supreme court," said Miller, "there would be further delay if a stay order was entered or not would be wasted. Then, too, I understand that the jury will be ordered locked up. We wish to avoid any such thing."

United States District Attorney Ilkerson arose at this juncture and asked the court of a precedent in the existing situation.

"You refer to the Wilson case," interrupted Judge Carpenter. "Unless there is serious objection to the matter I'll go over until Dec. 6 at 10 o'clock."

With this ruling the brief court proceedings in the case were terminated.

ONE BANDIT ROBS MAIL

Last Line Train in South Carolina Loses Registered Letters.

Columbus, S. C., Nov. 25.—A masked man robbed the mail car of Atlantic Coast line train No. 55 between Myrtle and Columbia, S. C., today. The robbers, who were armed with pistols, stopped the train and opened up just before the train reached the city limits.

The value of the registered mail is not known, but the letters were said to contain several thousand dollars. There is no clue to the identity of the robbers.

The train, westbound from Wilmington, N. C., reached the Royster block house, 10 miles from Columbia. It stopped for a moment, then proceeded to the city. The robber is supposed to have boarded the train at Royster. Within a few moments after the mail car started he appeared in the mail car, held up the two mail clerks at the point of a pistol and took the registered letters. He then pulled the cord and leaped off as the train moved.

STUDENTS IN WILD RIOT

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 25.—University Illinois students broke down the doors of the Orpheum theater in Champaign and sought to gain admission to the performance in progress. When they were refused, they resorted to violence.

It is said that no further conferences will be held between the labor representatives and railroad officials and a strike may be called at any time.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT ISSUES STATEMENT

Seeks to Discourage Booming Him for President.

New York, Nov. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, when asked regarding the report that he may be a candidate for president, told a World correspondent that a statement might be made as follows:

"The World says in a special dispatch from Oyster Bay:

"Colonel Roosevelt finds it difficult to understand the comment, the statement reads, 'that has followed upon his article in the Outlook regarding national laws and business interests. He has said exactly the same thing many times before. He cannot see why it should be assumed that this article indicates he is ready to take any personal part in the coming campaign.'"

"It can be stated that Colonel Roosevelt has received many letters indicating the willingness of the writers to give him political support if such is desired. It can be stated that Colonel Roosevelt received a letter from a certain United States senator offering the full Republican support of the senator in case Colonel Roosevelt should wish to be a candidate in the national campaign. To this letter Colonel Roosevelt has replied that he earnestly hopes the senator will not refrain from any action looking to the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt, but also will prevent his friends from taking any such steps."

"No comment would be made by Colonel Roosevelt upon this announcement, which he insisted should be made in the third person. He would not name the senator to whom he referred."

$100,000 SHORTAGE ALLEGED

Treasurer of Federal Oil and Gas Company Arrested.

Pittsburg, Nov. 25.—Elmer W. Moore, treasurer of the Federal Oil and Gas company, was arrested on a capias issued by Judge Charles P. Orr of the United States circuit court. It is alleged that there is a shortage of $100,000 in the accounts of the company. Moore's bond was placed at $50,000, which a friend furnished.

About eight months ago, it is said, the stockholders of the company discovered that the funds were short $100,000. None of the officials could explain the discrepancy. Stockholders then had a receiver appointed. The issuance of the capias for Moore, it is alleged, was taken with a desire to clear up the situation.

SHANK TO SELL TURKEYS

Mayor of Indianapolis Continues Fight on High Prices.

Indianapolis, Nov. 25.—Following his recent action in selling several train loads of potatoes to the public at cost, Mayor Shank has determined that Thanksgiving turkey shall be within the reach of all classes.

The mayor is now in Southern Indiana, where he expects to purchase from 1,200 to 1,500 turkeys, ship them to this city and sell them at cost to householders.

The value of a thing is the peace of mind it gives you.

CLARK EXPECTS GREAT SESSION

Speaker Will Soon Be on the Ground to Plan Program.

TRUSTS, TARIFF AND ECONOMY

These Three Will Be the Chief Issues. Senate Still Hopes to Elect a President Pro Tem.—Most Populous Congressional District Is In California. Wilson Not In Retiring Mood.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 25.—[Special.]—Speaker Clark is expected in Washington next Monday, which is one week before the second session of the Sixty-second congress convenes. It is expected that he will take up the subject of a program for the session with Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee and other leaders who will be here during the week. Although much power and responsibility was taken from the speaker by the rules of the present Democratic house, he is yet a powerful factor in shaping legislation.

Aside from that, Champ Clark has had so much experience in legislation that he would be consulted even if he were not speaker. Mr. Clark has said that he expects a very interesting session. It is presumed that the Democrats will early renew the effort to revise the tariff and give the president another opportunity to veto Democratic bills.

"The Eternal Triangle." The problem of life has been denoted as the "eternal triangle." The term may be applied to congress. Trusts, tariff and appropriations will form the triangular subject of business and discussion the coming winter.

There must be legislation on all these subjects, or at least legislation must be attempted on some of them, and so far as the appropriations are concerned they must be passed. Trusts have already received their share of attention in preliminary hearings, and almost anything will start up a tariff discussion in either branch of congress.

Need a President Pro Tem.

The senate is likely to spend considerable time before the holiday recess in trying to elect a president pro tem, to take "Sunny Jim" Sherman's place when he wants to get away for a few days. Fifteen fruitless ballots were taken in the last session without an election.

The deadlock exists because the progressives will not vote for Senator Gallinger, who is the Republican caucus nominee. The senate desires to kill time and it might just as well spend a few hours each day balloting for a presiding officer. There is an intimation that Senator Gallinger may break the deadlock by refusing to allow his name to remain longer before the senate.

Beats Ayres' Record.

It has always been supposed that Congressman Ayres of the Eighteenth New York district represented more people than any other man in congress. It is the populous Bronx district which has increased so rapidly during the past ten years and contains 482,568 people by the last census.

It now appears that Congressman Stephens of California has the largest district in point of population. He has 504,131 people. The district is only one county in size, but it contains the city of Los Angeles. If all his constituents would write to him at once he would be the busiest man who ever came to congress. The state of Nevada, with only 18,755 people, has two senators and one representative.

West Wants More Irrigation.

State Commissioner Schenck of Wyoming thinks that the government could do nothing better for the country than to enlarge its present irrigation work and redeem millions of acres of land. He says it is a more important matter than many of the propositions which have been before congress. It is probable, however, that before anything further is done along the lines of irrigation under government auspices congress will await results under the present law.

Congressional Biography.

A biographical directory of congress is soon to be issued which will contain a short history of every person who ever served in congress, including the members of the Continental congress. There have been sixty-two congresses since the government was organized.

A work of this kind was issued some years ago, but it was found faulty and full of errors. Henry M. Rose, assistant secretary of the senate, is superintending the new issue, and it is expected that it will be very complete.

Wilson For Retirement.

When a headline appears announcing that Secretary James Wilson favors retirement it does not mean that he is going to leave the agricultural department, but that he is in favor of legislation providing for the retirement of superannuated employees of the government.

We have about concluded that Secretary Wilson will never retire. He seems to have a grip upon the agricultural department that cannot be loosened. "They are used to me, and I am used to them," remarked the secretary when discussing the many retirement rumors which were in circulation about him.

Forty-five Japanese Perish.

Tokio, Nov. 25.—The Japanese destroyer Hiei was sunk by the British submarine E-10 off the coast of Japan.

SENATOR WORKS.
Californian Assails Medical Inspection in Public Schools.

ATTACK ON MEDICAL TESTS

Senator Works of California Opposes Inspection in Schools.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—United States Senator John D. Works of California, addressing the National League for Medical Freedom here, assailed the allopathic school of medicine as seeking to form a trust to the exclusion of all other methods of healing and particularly denounced the medical examination of public school pupils.

His remarks, given plainly, were directed chiefly to that part of the school inspection involving girls in the upper grades.

SENATOR NELSON TO SUPPORT TAFT

May Lead Fight in Minnesota for the President.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Senator Knute Nelson is expected to direct the fight that is to be made in Minnesota in behalf of President Taft. The administration leaders believe that Senator Nelson will be able to procure the election in the Minnesota Republican state convention of four delegates at large who will stand by Mr. Taft through thick and thin. They do not look for these delegates to be instructed for Mr. Taft. On the contrary, they are of the opinion that the delegates will be uninstructed, but composed of men who will vote for the president's nomination on every ballot if there should be more than one ballot.

In his fight for Mr. Taft the senior senator, according to statements made here, will have the active assistance of State Chairman E. Smith, Frank B. Kellogg, Representative F. C. Stevens and practically all the federal officeholders in the state.

PICKS FLAWS IN DEFENSE

Alleged Slayer of Husband Weeps Under Prosecutor's Grueling.

Denver, Nov. 25.—Three hours sharp and merciless cross-examination of Gertrude Gibson Patterson by the state found flaws in important points for the defense.

Letters were introduced dated but a few days subsequent to the alleged harsh treatment by her husband which were couched by the defendant in the most affectionate terms. The state asserted that they were models of a husband's wife should address a husband.

Under the grueling of the special prosecutor Mrs. Patterson lost her listless, almost uninterested manner that has so far characterized her appearance during the trial. Twice she wept, then rallied and became defiant.

DELAY WEARS ON PRISONER

Eight Sworn Jurors So Far in McNamara Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.—Eight sworn jurors sat in the McNamara jury box, three having been added. To this number was added one man passed as to cause over challenge by the defense.

H. S. Beaman, the man accepted as to cause, probably will engage one of the seven peremptory challenges remaining to the defense as soon as the jury box is again full.

Although J. B. McNamara is reportedly physically fit spectators at the trial have thought they noticed that he was wearing somewhat on him. He expressed a belief that a bullet guarding him was secretly a detective. Efforts were made to persuade him that this was not true.

SAYS TARIFF LEADING ISSUE

Speaker Clark Opposes Repeal of Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 25.—In an interview given out here Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, declares that he is opposed to the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and urges its vigorous enforcement. He believes the tariff will be the great issue of the 1912 campaign and that the Democrats, unless they nominate a man who will divide the party, will win the presidency on that issue.

JURY FINDS TWO KANSANS GUILTY

SAVES NEGRO FROM DEATH

Father of Assaulted Girl Tells Mob to Respect Kansas Law.

Spring Hill, Kan., Nov. 25.—While Clarence Davis, an eighteen-year-old negro, sat shackled in a pool hall here 200 members of a posse who captured him for an attempted assault on Ruth Pike, a fourteen-year-old girl, argued the question of trying the law into their own hands.

Speeches were made. At the conclusion a tall farmer pulled the negro to the door and assuming the leadership of the mob, cried: "Come on boys; we'll burn him at the stake."

Willing hands helped drag the negro to the street.

At this juncture J. A. Fike, father of the near-victim, arrived. Pushing aside the men, he reached the negro's side and addressing himself to the crowd, declared the mob must disperse and let the law take its course.

After a conference the mob leaders turned the negro over to the county authorities, after being assured of a speedy trial for him.

NEARLY ALL MANCHUS SLAIN

Missionaries Give Details of Massacre at Sianfu.

Peking, Nov. 25.—Missionaries arriving in Peking from Tungchowfu, eighty miles northeast of Sianfu, give accounts of the recent revolution in the province of Shensi, where the anti-foreign element declared its intention to exterminate foreigners, Christians and Manchus, but only partly succeeded.

The rebel general at Sianfu, they say, issued a proclamation to the people not to harm merchants, foreigners or noncombatants, but only to destroy Manchus. The Manchus thereupon prepared for defense within their own walled section of the city. They withstood one attack by a mob of students and soldiers, but in an attack the next day nearly all the Manchus were slain.

MINERS' HEAD CRIES FRAUD

Report Asserts Ballots Disappeared in Union's Election.

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—The Columbus Dispatch says:

One of the biggest sensations in the history of the United Mine Workers of America, involving the direct charge by President John P. White that fraud prevailed in the election contest for president of the order between himself and Tom L. Lewis last January and that the returns of forty-nine unions in Illinois disappeared after they had reached international headquarters in Indianapolis, has been disclosed. The ballots of the forty-nine Illinois unions represented the votes of more than 10,000 men. It is stated that the entire matter will be presented to the annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America in January.

A special investigation committee was appointed to look into the affair and its report has just been filed.

Acquits Third Man on Charge of Tarring Teacher.

FOUR OTHERS PLEAD GUILTY

Man Who Lured the Woman to Lonely Place Where She Was Dragged From Buggy and Given Coat of Tar and Three Accomplishes Receive Maximum Penalty of One Year Each in County Jail.

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 25.—Two of the defendants of the "tar party" case, John Schmidt and Sherill Clark, were found guilty of assault and battery by a jury in Judge Grover's court. A. N. Simms was acquitted.

Sentence on the two men was deferred to permit attorneys to argue a motion for a new trial.

Sentences of one year each in the county jail, the extreme penalty in Kansas for the offense charged, was passed on Everett G. Clark, Jay Fitzwater, Watson Scranton and Edward Ricord, confessed assailants of Mary Chamberlain, the schoolteacher who was tarred. These defendants were accused of the same crime. In addition to the sentence the court ruled that the men must pay the costs of the prosecution.

An effort was made by attorneys for Fitzwater and Clark to have the court entertain a motion to grant an appeal to the supreme court on the ground that the sentence was excessive. This motion was not passed on.

Ricord already was in jail, having been surrendered by his bondsmen seventy-seven days ago. The court told the three other men they might have a reasonable time to straighten up their business affairs. Fitzwater says he will go to jail next week. Clark's immense business interests may make it necessary for him to be free for a month or more.

Scranton said he would be ready in a few hours and would not appeal his case.

The four who confessed expressed themselves as actually being glad the long period of waiting was over. Sherill Clark and John Schmidt hardly expected conviction, but they had no complaint to offer. They are still free on their bonds.

BEATTIE CONFESSES CRIME

Admits Murdering Wife Prior to His Execution.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 25.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr. before his death in the electric chair at 7:23 a. m., confessed to the murder of his wife. The confession evidently was made at the eleventh hour when Beattie finally became convinced that all hope of escaping the electric chair had passed.

There was no delay in preparing for the end. Beattie took his place, the prison surgeon and the electricians adjusted the straps, a dozen clamps were quickly thrown into place and snapped. The cap, resembling a leather football head harness, was adjusted and the men stepped back.

The warden raised his hand. Instantly Beattie's body stiffened with such violence that the straps creaked with the strain, the clamps rattled as though they were castanets in the hands of death and then that which once had been Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., relaxed.

It was just 7:23 a. m. when the shock was applied. One minute later Beattie was dead.

DUEL AGAIN OVER MME. CURIE

Writer Wounded With Sword During Encounter.

Paris, Nov. 25.—Another sword duel connected with the Curie-angel case took place between Gustave Thery and Pierre Mortier, a writer in Gil Blas. M. Mortier was wounded twice, once in the arm and once more seriously in the wrist. After the encounter was stopped.

Despite the fact that the writer of the article alleging that Mme. Curie had eloped with Professor Langmuir has publicly apologized, the case was again to public notice through the publication of a pamphlet by Gustave Thery containing what is alleged to be a copy of the secret letter in the correctional court of the Seine by Mme. Langmuir. The publication of the text of a confidential letter is prohibited by law.

PROGRAM TONIGHT

"Mobilization of American Fleet"

One hundred and two of Uncle Sam's biggest water bull dogs gathered together on the Hudson river. This gigantic display of our strength on the seas is the largest ever assembled under the American flag. You get a survey of the general make-up of the largest vessels with their trim decks and majestic new style skeleton masks. But even more than this you see the men go through their masterful drills. You size up the work of various crews and then they go through their dances, music and a hundred and one pranks that have made your Uncle Sam's Jack tars the rollicking, jolly sailor boys that they are.

"DESPERATE DESMOND ALMOST SUCCEEDS"

Another comedy paper masterpiece that is said to even be better than Mutt & Jeff and that's going some. Desperate Desmond is the famous character in the N. Y. Journal. He is the chap that wants the beautiful Rosamond and does desperate deeds to get her but each time is foiled by our hero Claude Eclair. It is a roar of laughter from start to finish.

"The Race for a Bride"

A drama with a real plot. It is a stirring story properly staged and acted.

Here's One Clothing Story that you've never heard before

We've a different story to tell, because we're in a different position from any other clothing house in this section.

We are going to do things this Fall and Winter that will establish our right to first consideration when you think of good clothes. We have chosen the greatest line of ever shown hereabouts; it's a wonderful assortment of the finest clothes ever made; you'll delight in selecting an authoritative style from a stock so resplendent with good styles and exclusive fabrics.

Every one of these garments has been marked at an "economy price"—a price that means money saving. We've accomplished reductions in price and increase in worth by economical store management—by a determination to build up a continually increasing business by giving more value than you've ever received before.

PROGRAM TONIGHT

"Mobilization of American Fleet"

One hundred and two of Uncle Sam's biggest water bull dogs gathered together on the Hudson river. This gigantic display of our strength on the seas is the largest ever assembled under the American flag. You get a survey of the general make-up of the largest vessels with their trim decks and majestic new style skeleton masks. But even more than this you see the men go through their masterful drills. You size up the work of various crews and then they go through their dances, music and a hundred and one pranks that have made your Uncle Sam's jack tars the rollicking, jolly sailor boys that they are.

"DESPERATE DESMOND ALMOST SUCCEEDS"

Another comedy paper masterpiece that is said to even be better than Mutt & Jeff and that's going some. Desperate Desmond is the famous character in the N. Y. Journal. He is the chap that wants the beautiful Rosamond and does desperate deeds to get her but each time is foiled by our hero Claude Clair. It is a roar of laughter from start to finish.

"The Race for a Bride"

A drama with a real plot. It is a stirring story properly staged and acted.

THE GOOD AND THE BAD.

One ought to balance the good with the bad and also the length of time a man has lived to form a true estimate of his character. Polybius, the Greek historian, says, "There is no reason why we should not sometimes blame and sometimes commend the same person, for, as none is always right, neither is it probable that he should be always wrong."

HARRY BULGER IN THE FLIRTING PRINCESS

A Premier Attraction that has made a Hit from Coast to Coast— A Triumph in Stage Craft

ORIGINAL PRODUCTION AND CAST

Brainerd has an Opportunity to Demonstrate Whether it Desires the Big Stage Triumphs

Harry Bulger, the successful star of "The Flirting Princess," which will be the attraction at the Brainerd Opera house next Wednesday night, is one of the few actors who find a welcome in all sections of the country and on the present tour he has scored a triumph in every city in which "The Flirting Princess" has been produced. Mr. Bulger has a vehicle in "The Flirting Princess" which gives him rare opportunities of exerting his consummate art and it is a safe predic-

Dale Fuller the show would have little excuse for living. They are everything, and with Miss Helen Darling and Billy Kent there is an unbeatable quartette. The others are only necessary to give the principals the right chance to make good, and as the entire company is remarkably well balanced, the best in them is produced.

"It has been said that there is a plot to "The Flirting Princess," but

Scene from the beautiful and tuneful comedy, "The Flirting Princess" at the Brainerd Opera House, Wednesday, Nov. 29th

Harry Bulger, in "The Flirting Princess" Wed. Nov. 29 AT the Brainerd Opera House

tion that there will be no more pleasing attraction seen in Brainerd the present season.

Will be a Treat

The booking of "The Flirting Princess" was only accomplished after much exertion and its appearance will be a test of the ability of Brainerd to support the very best attractions on the road. A large and first class company must look to the box office returns and unless it is given the support to which it is entitled, other companies are compelled to steer clear of the town and avoid financial disaster. A number of other first class attractions, such as "The Heartbreakers," "Madame Sherry," etc., are negotiating for time in Brainerd, but the appearance of these will be determined by the reception given "The Flirting Princess" next Wednesday night and the theatrical standing of the city will be established as far as the large and first class attractions are concerned.

Carries a Big Cast

"The Flirting Princess" has a cast of characters composed of twenty-four people with speaking parts, besides one of the largest and best choruses carried by any road show of the present season. Mr. Bulger is supported by a chorus that can sing, something which is very scarce at the present time and Mr. Singer, the owner of the attraction, has spared no expense in securing in the first place a company which is of the highest ability and in the second place staging his attractions most sumptuously in every respect. No detail is overlooked and this undoubtedly has contributed much to the phenomenal success of the attraction.

Brightest, Gayest and Most Glittering

In no city on the continent did "The Flirting Princess" receive a more careful welcome than in Winnipeg, and the following criticism appeared in the Winnipeg Telegram:

"A happy coterie of artists, with a vehicle full of opportunities for each of them, makes "The Flirting Princess" one of the brightest, gayest and most glittering musical comedies produced here this season.

"The Flirting Princess" is a show that has features in abundance. Through it all runs a fascinating air that charms all the way. It has lots of comedy; in fact, it is all comedy, and without Harry Bulger and Miss it would take Commander Perry to find it, yet there is enough plot to make you imagine there is one, and, after all, the plot doesn't count in a musical show. This is a show of music and dancing, and there is certainly full value in that direction.

"Miss Helen Sheridan is a whole show in herself, and her dancing is and make it go well. Another splendid dance is the "turkey trot," one of those melodious affairs which makes a grand finale. The music of the show is exceedingly tuneful, the feature song being "Cairo," but there are several other delightful pieces.

"Harry Bulger is simply great in all he does, and no better thing could be said of him. His first song, "He Was a Soldier, Too," was a scream, and it seems a pity that he does not sing more. Miss Helen Sheridan is also a magnificent comedienne, although she lacks the voice for really fine singing. Her manner, however, is sufficient to please everybody, and one forgets the voice. Miss Dale Fuller is among the queens in her line, and is killing in her parts. One can imagine a man in the grotesque work she undertakes, but you have to see this lady to realize what she is. Miss Helen Darling, as the "Flirting Princess," sings sweetly, and also casts well, but her part does not allow her much scope. The rest of the company is good and make the show a great success."

The same criticism is voiced in the press of the entire country and it must be remembered that the very same company in every particular will appear in Brainerd next Wednesday evening.

Secure Seats Early

The sale of seats will commence at the opera house box office Monday, November 27, at 10 a. m., and those desiring seats should be on hand early, as the interest manifested in the attraction gives evidence that the demand will be brisk. Absolutely no reservations will be made in advance of the above hour and those in line will be given first choice of seats. Orders by mail and telephone will be given careful attention. The box office will be open from 10 a. m. to noon; from 1 to 5:30 p. m., and from 7 to 10 p. m. Telephone call 388.

His Motion.

"De meetin' had to disband very sudden." "Did you make the motion to adjourn?" "I did." "How did you do it?" "I made a motion like I was reachin' for a razor."—Pittsburgh Press.

Billy Kent and Dale Fuller in "The Oogie Dance" in the "Flirting Princess" at Opera House Wed., Nov. 29.

unique as it is excellent. She gives something new in her "Oogie Dance" supposed to be a Chinese affair. It is patterned on the "Merry Widow" waltz, and is full of the same mystic movements, all having a meaning of their own. Miss Helen Sheridan and Billy Kent are the others in the dance, Lighthouses. In England the first true lighthouse was the Eddystone, built in 1759. Two centuries before Christ, however, fires had been lighted on a tower near Alexandria, Egypt, as a warning to mariners.

BRASS WORKERS.

Theirs is a Dangerous Trade, and They Usually Die Young.

The present rate of mortality of the brass foundryman is two and a half times that of the farmer. Respiratory diseases, particularly consumption, account for the difference. Comparative tables based on sickness and invalidism, if obtainable, would show even greater differences.

The age statistics in the trade are startling. Of 1,751 brass foundrymen but seventeen over fifty years of age were found and a bare 200 over forty years of age. When asked the cause of this the officials invariably stated: "They got too old. They can't turn out the work they should every day." But what sort of an industry is this in which nearly six-sevenths of its followers are too old at the age of forty? It is not thus among ironmolders, most of whom are hale and hearty even at sixty years and still able to turn out their full quota of work daily. Workmen claim they "are knocked out by the brass fumes."

These age statistics for Chicago workmen are no different from those Sir Thomas Oliver gives in his book on "Dangerous Trades." "Only ten brass workers of 1200 casters in Birmingham, England, were found living beyond sixty years. A superannuation insurance for brass founders, to begin at fifty-five years of age, had only three applicants in a period of some ten years."

There is no cure for brass chills. But they can be prevented by striking at the cause. For such an important industry not to do so is like tolerating smallpox in a modern community. The workmen must be protected from the breathing in of brass fumes and foundry smoke. In large foundries with good ventilation, either natural or artificial, brass chills practically never occur.—Emery R. Hayhurst in Survey.

Burden Bearer in Mexico.

Strong backed laboring men take the place of moving vans in Mexico. There are huge flat trucks with four handles into which things are piled and lugged along the city streets. On moving day the household furniture may be seen paraded in full gaze of the curious from street to street to the new destination. These men are called cargadores and combine the usefulness of messenger boy and the porter of the old world. The great burdens borne thus by the strength of a single carrier are amazing. A piano will be carried along by two men on one of the strong trucks.

A Generous Empress.

It is said that one morning at breakfast a general related to the emperor the misfortunes of a brother officer, who, "because he had not 15,000 francs, must be dishonored." While the emperor questioned further particulars Eugene flew to her room and, returning with a package of banknotes, said, "Take them, general, and never tell me his name." And his name the generous empress never knew.

Thirteen at Dinner.

Thirteen at dinner is an old Norse myth. It was deemed unlucky because Loki, god of malice, once intruded, making thirteen guests, and Baldr, the brilliant god, was slain at the instigation of Loki, who prevailed upon Hodur, a strong but blind god, to throw Mistel, the mistletoe, at Baldr, perforating the latter and letting out his divine soul.

Men of culture are the true apostles of equality.—Matthew Arnold.

CASCARETS WORK

WHILE YOU SLEEP

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach or have backache and fell all worn out. Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10 cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

PERFECT GAUGES.

The Process of Their Making Is a Profound Secret.

LOCKED IN ONE MAN'S BRAIN

So Accurate Are These Wonderful Standards That Twenty or More of Them Rubbed Together Adhere as Though Made of One Piece of Metal.

In a closely guarded room of a small shop in an obscure Swedish village a man toils in secret, says a writer in Cassier's Magazine. Just how he accomplishes what he does no one knows, not even his sons who work with him. Johansson has made the world beat a path to his door, for he has discovered the secret of making a more accurate limit gauge than any previously in use. A single set of his gauges gives a practically unlimited series of sizes, rising by steps of a ten-thousandth of an inch—much less than the traditional half's breadth—to twenty-six inches. It is said that 80,000 combinations of these gauges are possible.

No dimension within their limits has been cited that they failed to reproduce. Extreme accuracy in building machinery, particularly that of motor-cars, is of the greatest importance, and the first step toward that end is the perfection of a standard. Making such standards is a tedious and expensive process. But Johansson has not found it so, or else he values his secret lightly from the pecuniary point of view, for he is able to pay Uncle Sam a duty of 45 per cent and still offer his gauges in the American market for a few hundred dollars, although they could not be made here for many times their price.

When two of these Swedish gauges are "wiped" together so as to exclude the air from between them they adhere with a pressure which experienced men have shown to exceed thirty pounds to the square inch. Twenty or more pieces may be thus wiped together and supported horizontally by merely holding the last one, which means that the accuracy of their various surfaces is almost absolute.

Finishing one surface or two surfaces to a very close limit by lapping—rubbing together with a fine abrasive between—is a comparatively simple matter. But achieving such perfect parallelism as is shown by these remarkable gauges is quite another thing, a secret quite well known.

The peculiarity about this mysteriously powerful adhesion of the separate pieces is that the feel of the built up gauge thus formed is exactly the same as that of a single piece of metal, and this holds for any combination, the number of pieces forming it not affecting the sensation in the slightest. Any skilled mechanic will understand instinctively the meaning of this and its testimony to the accuracy of the gauges.

For instance, a one inch gauge may be built up of pieces representing 0.5+0.2+0.05+150+0.1 inch, and the resulting piece will be one inch absolute, or any one of several other combinations may be made to represent an inch, and blindfolded the most expert mechanic could not detect any difference between the manner in which this composite inch gauge and the one piece inch gauge fitted in a snap gauge of the same size. It would be an easy matter to confuse the two in handling.

Mr. Johansson, the backwoods inventor who discovered what thousands of the most expert mechanics in machine building centers have vainly sought for half a century, limits his output to a few hundred sets of gauges a year whether purely for illumination or because of mechanical difficulties in production is as much a secret as the process itself and one that he will doubtless take with him when he dies.

Curiosities of Color.

After any severe shock you will be very likely to find that you have become temporarily color blind. Your perception of green light has probably gone, at least partially. White objects will then appear to you of a reddish purple and green objects to be very much duller in hue than ordinarily. Any one can make himself or herself temporarily color blind by wearing a pair of ruby red glasses. The prolonged action of red light on the eyes ends by tiring out the nerves which receive red light. Consequently when the glasses are at last removed a rainbow appears to have only two colors—yellow and blue.

HUNTING THE WOLF.

Trained Eagles Are Used by the Tartar Tribes of Asia.

There are many ways of hunting the wolf in Russia, some very curious and exciting and others as tame as target practice. The most sportsmanlike way is by means of hounds, and all over Russia today there are well to do sportsmen who hunt the animal in this fashion. Wolves are also taken in pitfalls and shot, while still another way is to drive in a sleigh through the forest in time of hard frost, when the wolves are bold with hunger. At the back of the sleigh one or more sportsmen lie snugly under their fur rugs with their rifles ready. A young pig is carried in the sleigh, and its cries soon reach the ears of the lurking wolves, who cannot resist following the sleigh and are speedily shot.

One of the most picturesque ways of hunting the wolf, perhaps, is that which one may see in the west of Asia on the bleak Kirghiz steppes. The Tartar tribes are wonderful horsemen, and they ride after the wolf in very large parties. Not only are dogs used to overtake the quarry, but because a fleet wolf may get away from them, eagles are used, being trained to help the hunter in very much the same manner as falcons in olden times. The great bird sits on the hunter's wrist until it is loosed. Then it soars into the air, sails after the quarry and swoops down upon it. Its duty is not to kill, but to "bottle" the wolf by flapping its wings in its face and driving its sharp claws into the animal's back. Such hunting makes capital sport for the riders; but, apart from this, wolf hunting is a real necessity in those parts, the brutes being far too partial to the lambs and kids of the Tartars' flocks.—Wide World Magazine.

WORST COLD BREAKS EASILY

In Just a Few Hours All Misery From a Bad Cold or the Grippe Will be Overcome

Nothing else that you can take will break your cold or end gripple so promptly as a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken. The most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatic pains and other distress begin to leave after the very first dose. Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripple.

TWO NEW HATS.

The Scheme That Won Them and the Way It Was Worked.

A man who used to be in politics and was a constant borrower found himself in need of a new hat, but he couldn't find anybody who would lend him a cent.

Finally he went to an acquaintance and said: "I want to borrow $50 for five minutes."

"You can have it if you will put up a couple of fingers for security."

"Nix. Now, I've got a scheme. You lend me the fifty and you needn't let me get out of your sight. If you do I'll stake you to a new hat."

Mystified, but curious, the acquaintance agreed to this, and the two repaired to a prominent hat store.

"Wait a minute," said the adventurer and left his backer doing sentry duty on the sidewalk.

Picking out the most important looking personage in the store, the politician went up to him and said: "I am so-and-so of the — district. I have come to pay for two hats for which I have given orders on you to two of my constituents."

With that he flashed a fifty dollar bill.

There was a scurrying around, a search of books and a reply that no such orders had been presented.

"Just look out for them, will you?" said the district leader, waving the big bill, which was hypnotic in its way for the clerk bowed low and said "Yes."

Half an hour later two orders were presented and two hats left the store.—Chicago Post.

"HOW WE ARE GOUGED"

W. F. Ries, Socialist Lecturer, Wants to Tell Us About it

The socialists are sending to Brainerd as the first number on their lecture course, W. F. Ries, who is going to talk to us about "How We Are Gouged." Seems to us the socialists have an ungovernable penchant for selecting irritating subjects. It we have to be gouged, and according to our trust and tariff experts we do, why not have it over with and forget it? Really, we don't need the talented lecturers of the socialist party to keep it ever in our minds.

Of the two sides of the socialist philosophy, give us the bright one every time. Don't tell us how we are gouged. Tell us how every working man can have a home of his own and feed his family three good meals with four hours' work a day, and spend the rest of his time sitting in two-dollar seats at the ball game rooting for the home team. It may not be true, it may not be half as true as the undisputed, undeniable, east-river fact that we are gouged by the sugar trust. But it's so much more interesting.

Mr. Ries is going to lecture at Walker hall on Monday, Nov. 27, at 8 p. m. Why not get up a petition asking him to forget how we are gouged and paint us one of those beautiful word-pictures about five dollars a day for four hours, with free lemonade and street car tickets?

Local Brainerd of the socialist party must sell 300 tickets for the series of five lectures at $1.00 each. These $1.00 season tickets entitle the holder to $1.00 worth of subscription to any of the large number of socialist papers published or socialist books. Tickets for 25 cents entitle the holder to 25 cents worth of subscriptions to socialist papers or socialist books and admission to one lecture. COMMITTEE.

HARRY BULGER IN THE FLIRTING PRINCESS

A Premier Attraction that has made a Hit from Coast to Coast--
A Triumph in Stage Craft

ORIGINAL PRODUCTION AND CAST

Brainerd has an Opportunity to Demonstrate Whether it Desires the Big Stage Triumphs

Harry Bulger, the successful star of "The Flirting Princess," which will be the attraction at the Brainerd Opera house next Wednesday night, is one of the few actors who find a welcome in all sections of the country and on the present tour he has scored a triumph in every city in which "The Flirting Princess" has been produced. Mr. Bulger has a vehicle in "The Flirting Princess" which gives him rare opportunities of exerting his consummate art and it is a safe predic-

Dale Fuller the show would have little excuse for living. They are everything, and with Miss Helen Darling and Billy Kent there is an unbeatable quartette. The others are only necessary to give the principals the right chance to make good, and as the entire company is remarkably well balanced, the best in them is produced.

"It has been said that there is a plot to 'The Flirting Princess,' but

Scene from the beautiful and tuneful comedy, "The Flirting Princess" at the Brainerd Opera House, Wednesday, Nov. 29th

tion that there will be no more pleasing attraction seen in Brainerd the present season.

Will be a Treat

The booking of "The Flirting Princess" was only accomplished after much exertion and its appearance will be a test of the ability of Brainerd to support the very best attractions on the road. A large and first class company must look to the box office returns and unless it is given the support to which it is entitled, other companies are compelled to steer clear of the town and avoid financial disaster. A number of other first class attractions, such as "The Heartbreakers," "Madame Sherry," etc., are being booked for time in Brainerd, but the appearance of these will be determined by the reception given "The Flirting Princess" next Wednesday night and the theatrical standing of the city will be established as far as the large and first class attractions are concerned.

Carries a Big Cast

"The Flirting Princess" has a cast of characters composed of twenty-four people with speaking parts, besides one of the largest and best choruses carried by any road show of the present season. Mr. Bulger is supported by a chorus that can sing, something which is very scarce at the present time and Mr. Slinger, the owner of the attraction, has spared no expense in securing in the first place a company which is of the highest ability and in the second place staging his attractions most sumptuously in every respect. No detail is overlooked and this undoubtedly has contributed much to the phenomenal success of the attraction.

Brightest, Gayest and Most Glittering

In no city on the continent did "The Flirting Princess" receive a more careful welcome than in Winnipeg, and the following criticism appeared in the Winnipeg Telegram:

"A happy coterie of artists, with a vehicle full of opportunities for each of them, makes 'The Flirting Princess' one of the brightest, gayest and most glittering musical comedies produced here this season.

"The Flirting Princess" is a show that has features in abundance. Through it all runs a fascinating air that charms all the way. It has lots of comedy; in fact, it is all comedy, and without Harry Bulger and Miss and make it go well. Another splendid dance is the "turkey trot," one of those melodious affairs which makes a grand finale. The music of the show is exceedingly tuneful, the feature song being "Cairo," but there are several other delightful pieces.

"Harry Bulger is simply great in all he does, and no better thing could be said of him. His first song, 'He Was a Soldier, Too,' was a scream, and it seems a pity that he does not sing more. Miss Eileen Sheridan is also a magnificent comedienne, although she lacks the voice for really fine singing. Her manner, however, is sufficient to please everybody, and one forgets the voice. Miss Dale Fuller is among the queens in her line, and is killing in her parts. One can imagine a man in the grotesque work she undertakes, but you have to see this lady to realize what she is. Miss Helen Darling, as the 'Flirting Princess,' sings sweetly, and also casts well, but her part does not allow her much scope. The rest of the company is good and make the show a great success."

The same criticism is voiced in the press of the entire country and it must be remembered that the very same company in every particular will appear in Brainerd next Wednesday evening.

Secure Seats Early

The sale of seats will commence at the opera house box office Monday, November 27, at 10 a. m., and those desiring seats should be on hand early, as the interest manifested in the attraction gives evidence that the demand will be brisk. Absolutely no reservations will be made in advance of the above hour and those in line will be given first choice of seats. Orders by mail and telephone will be given careful attention. The box office will be open from 10 a. m. to noon; from 1 to 5:30 p. m., and from 7 to 10 p. m. Telephone call 388.

His Motion.

unique as it is excellent. She gives something new in her "Oogie Dance" supposed to be a Chinese affair. It is patterned on the "Merry Widow" waltz, and is full of the same mystic movements, all having a meaning of their own. Miss Eileen Sheridan and Billy Kent are the others in the dance,

A Generous Empress.
It is said that one morning at breakfast a general related to the emperor the misfortunes of a brother officer, who, "because he had not 15,000 francs, must be dishonored." While the emperor questioned further particulars Eugene flew to her room and, returning with a package of banknotes, said, "Take them, general, and never tell me his name." And his name the generous empress never knew.

Thirteen at Dinner.

Thirteen at dinner is an old Norse myth. It was deemed unlucky because Loki, god of malice, once intruded, making thirteen guests, and Baldur, the brilliant god, was slain at the instigation of Loki, who prevailed upon Hodur, a strong but blind god, to throw Mistletoe, the mistletoe, at Baldur, perforating the latter and letting out his divine soul.

Men of culture are the true apostles of equality.—Matthew Arnold.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10 cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Lighthouses.

In England the first true lighthouse was the Eddystone, built in 1700. Two centuries before Christ, however, trees had been lighted on a tower near Alexandria, Egypt, as a warning to mariners.

BRASS WORKERS.

Theirs is a Dangerous Trade, and They Usually Die Young.

The present rate of mortality of the brass foundryman is two and a half times that of the farmer. Respiratory diseases, particularly consumption, account for the difference. Comparative tables based on sickness and invalidism, if obtainable, would show even greater differences.

The age statistics in the trade are startling. Of 1,551 brass foundrymen but seventeen over fifty years of age were found and a bare 200 over forty years of age. When asked the cause of this the officials invariably stated: "They got too old. They can't turn out the work they should every day." But what sort of an industry is this in which nearly six-sevenths of its followers are too old at the age of forty? It is not thus among ironmolders, most of whom are hale and hearty even at sixty years and still able to turn out their full quota of work daily. Workmen claim they "are knocked out by the brass fumes."

These age statistics for Chicago workmen are no different from those for Sir Thomas Oliver gives in his book on "Dangerous Trades." "Only ten brass workers of 1,200 casters in Birmingham, England, were found living beyond sixty years. A superannuation insurance for brass founders, to begin at fifty-five years of age, had only three applicants in a period of some ten years."

There is no cure for brass chills. But they can be prevented by striking at the cause. For such an important industry not to do so is like tolerating smallpox in a modern community. The workmen must be protected from the breathing in of brass fumes and foundry smoke. In large foundries with good ventilation, either natural or artificial, brass chills practically never occur.—Emery R. Hayhurst in Survey.

Burden Bearer in Mexico.

Strong backed laboring men take the place of moving vans in Mexico. There are huge flat trucks with four handles into which things are piled and lugged along the city streets. On moving day the household furniture may be seen paraded in full gaze of the curious from street to street to the new destination. These men are called cargadores and combine the usefulness of messenger boy and the porter of the old world. The great burdens borne thus by the strength of a single carrier are amazing. A piano will be carried along by two men on one of the strong trucks.

PERFECT GAUGES.

The Process of Their Making Is a Profound Secret.

LOCKED IN ONE MAN'S BRAIN

So Accurate Are These Wonderful Standards That Twenty or More of Them Rubbed Together Adhere as Though Made of One Piece of Metal.

In a closely guarded room of a small shop in an obscure Swedish village a man toils in secret, says a writer in Cassier's Magazine. Just how he accomplishes what he does no one knows, not even his sons who work with him.

Johannson has made the world beat a path to his door, for he has discovered the secret of making a more accurate limit gauge than any previously in use. A single set of his gauges gives a practically unlimited series of sizes, rising by steps of a ten-thousandth of an inch—much less than the traditional hair's breadth—to twenty-six inches. It is said that 50,000 combinations of these gauges are possible.

No dimension within their limits has been cited that they failed to reproduce. Extreme accuracy in building machinery, particularly that of motor-cars, is of the greatest importance, and the first step toward that end is the perfection of a standard. Making such standards is a tedious and expensive process. But Johannson has not found it so, or else he values his secret lightly from the pecuniary point of view, for he is able to pay Uncle Sam a duty of 45 per cent and still offer his gauges in the American market for a few hundred dollars, although they could not be made here for many times their price.

When two of these Swedish gauges are "wiped" together so as to exclude the air from between them they adhere with a pressure which experiment has shown to exceed thirty pounds to the square inch. Twenty or more pieces may be thus wiped together and supported horizontally by merely holding the last one, which means that the accuracy of their various surfaces is almost absolute.

Finishing one surface or two surfaces to a very close limit by lapping—rubbing together with a fine abrasive between—is a comparatively simple matter. But achieving such perfect parallelism as is shown by these remarkable gauges is quite another thing, a secret quite well worth knowing.

The peculiarity about this mysteriously powerful adhesion of the separate pieces is that the feel of the built up gauge thus formed is exactly the same as that of a single piece of metal, and this holds for any combination, the number of pieces forming it not affecting the sensation in the slightest. Any skilled mechanic will understand instinctively the meaning of this and its testimony to the accuracy of the gauges.

For instance, a one inch gauge may be built up of pieces representing 0.5+0.2+0.05+0.15+0.1 inch, and the resulting piece will be one inch absolute, or any one of several other combinations may be made to represent an inch, and blindfolded the most expert mechanic could not detect any difference between the manner in which this composite inch gauge and the one piece inch gauge fitted in a snap gauge of the same size. It would be an easy matter to confuse the two in handling.

Mr. Johannson, the backwoods inventor who discovered what thousands of the most expert mechanics in machine building centers have vainly sought for half a century, limits his output to a few hundred sets of gauges a year whether purely from inclination or because of mechanical difficulties in production is as much a secret as the process itself and one that he will doubtless take with him when he dies.

Curiosities of Color.

After any severe shock you will be very likely to find that you have become temporarily color blind. Your perception of green light has probably gone, at least partially. White objects will then appear to you of a reddish purple and green objects to be very much duller in hue than ordinarily. Any one can make himself or herself temporarily color blind by wearing a pair of ruby red glasses. The prolonged action of red light on the eyes ends by tiring out the nerves which receive red light. Consequently when the glasses are at last removed a rainbow appears to have only two colors—yellow and blue.

HUNTING THE WOLF.

Trained Eagles Are Used by the Tartar Tribes of Asia.

There are many ways of hunting the wolf in Russia, some very curious and exciting and others as tame as target practice. The most sportsmanlike way is by means of hounds, and all over Russia today there are well to do sportsmen who hunt the animal in this fashion. Wolves are also taken in pitfalls and shot, while still another way is to drive in a sleigh through the forest in time of hard frost, when the wolves are held with hunger. At the back of the sleigh one or more sportsmen lie snugly under their fur rugs with their rifles ready. A young pig is carried in the sleigh, and its cries soon reach the ears of the lurking wolves, who cannot resist following the sleigh and are speedily shot.

One of the most picturesque ways of hunting the wolf, perhaps, is that which one may see in the west of Asia on the bleak Kirghiz steppes. The Tartar tribes are wonderful horsemen, and they ride after the wolf in very large parties. Not only are dogs used to overtake the quarry, but because a fleet wolf may get away from them, eagles are used, being trained to help the hunter in very much the same manner as falcons in olden times. The great bird sits on the hunter's wrist until it is let loose. Then it soars into the air, sails after the quarry and swoops down upon it. Its duty is not to kill, but to "bait" the wolf by flapping its wings in its face and driving its sharp claws into the animal's back. Such hunting makes capital sport for the riders; but, apart from this, wolf hunting is a real necessity in those parts, the brutes being far too partial to the lambs and kids of the Tartars' flocks.—Wide World Magazine.

A VICIOUS COLONY

England's Penal Settlement in the Andaman Islands.

LIFE CONVICTS FROM INDIA.

Often the Most Desperate Prisoners Kill One Another, While Others Fall Victims to the Native Head Hunters, to Whom Murder Is Sport.

Frederick Taylor, F. R. G. S., writing in the Century Magazine about life in the Andaman Islands, says:

"The sailing of the Maharaja from Calcutta for the Andaman Islands was not accompanied by the usual goodbyes and handkerchief waving, for of my fellow passengers there were seventy to whom no one wished bon voyage or a safe return. These were convicts, all murderers under life sentences, who for some reason had escaped the death penalty, and included six women, for the Maharaja is the ship used by the colonial Indian government to transport convicts to the penal settlements near Port Blair, South Andaman Island, a distance of 650 miles from Calcutta.

"The prisoners were all manacled and shackled about the ankles, with chains fastened to bands at the wrist. They were a despicable lot. At night a continual moaning and cursing and hopeless sobbing came up from the hatches and made sleep out of the question for me, though the European officer in the steamer's cabin apparently slept undisturbed. Early the next morning I went on deck and learned that two of the male prisoners were ill and had been brought up to the deck for air. They were closely guarded, and raw recruits were stationed at the railing to prevent them from committing suicide by jumping overboard into the Indian river.

"The Andamans are literally the homes of murderers. The inhabitants are the most vicious members of an older civilization and the uncivilized head hunters, among whom murder is a sport and a pastime. In the settlement are about 1,700 prisoners, including 500 women. On arriving at Port Blair the prisoners first spend six months in solitary confinement in the cellular jail of Viper Island. They are then transferred to one of the associated jails and the comparative blessing of hard labor in company with others, though still occupying separate cells at night. After a year and a half of this they become slaves, working in and about the settlement during the day and sleeping in barracks at night, always closely guarded. At the expiration of five years a convict becomes eligible to join the colony of 'self supporters' and live in the village, where he earns his living in his chosen way, lives in his own house and can send for his wife and children or marry a convict woman. In a limited sense he becomes a paternal family, but is always carefully watched and cannot leave the settlement without permission.

"Despite the rigid discipline and the vigilance of the authorities the communal life is far from harmonious, and the more vicious often rebel. The murderers kill one another and are in turn murdered by the treacherous Andamanese, who regard the hapless convicts and their guards as their natural prey. Occasional attempts at escape are made by the prisoners, but the efforts inevitably prove disastrous. The fugitive, finding his conditional freedom worse than servitude, either dies at the hands of the Jarawa warriors, falls a victim to fever or other disease or starves. There is also a system in vogue by which the more friendly tribes of savages co-operate with the authorities in capturing escaped convicts and receive rewards for the return of the unhappy deserters. More often, however, the head hunters kill the fugitive and return only the head, receiving the reward just the same, the killing adding zest to the chase and the return of the head being the easiest and quickest way of earning the reward.

"Under these conditions there are few attempts at escape, though many remarkably hazardous dashes for liberty have been made from time to time, which, though futile, were most daring. Some time ago the steamer Puiata picked up a poor, emaciated wretch who was sighted on a small bamboo raft off the Arakan coast. He was later found to be an escaped convict. When picked up he had been on the raft for twenty-nine days during one of the southwest monsoons and had secured water by catching the rain and sucking it from his turban and loin cloth. He lived upon flying fish that flew aboard the raft, eating them raw. He was swept off the raft many times by the waves, but had managed to cling to it. After a month in a hospital at Rangoon he was returned to prison and solitary confinement.

"Another daring attempt at escape was made by a party of six convicts who were sent with two native policemen to a small island off the middle Andaman to work. They managed to escape from the guards and, hoisting the sail of the small boat, started out in a gale. After seven days of heavy weather they were dashed upon the rocks of the Tenasserim coast, and the boat was wrecked. All escaped with their lives and eventually reached the Siamese border, where they were apprehended by the local authorities and returned to the prison."

KING OF THE ASPS.

This Reptile, the Most Venomous of Snakes, Is Death Itself.

The most venomous of snakes is said to be the Echis carinata of India. It is about eighteen inches long and of a gray color. The creature is death itself and carries in its head the secret of destroying life with the concentrated agony of all the poisons.

The Echis carinata is tolerably common in India, being found in nearly every part of the peninsula.

Fortunately, however, for man, it is not, like the cobra, a house frequenting snake, for its aggressive habits would make it infinitely more fatal to life than its dreaded relative.

This king of the asps does not turn to escape from man, as the cobra will, or flash into concealment, like the koiari, but keeps the path against its human assailant and, pitting its own eighteen inches of length against its enemy's bulk, challenges and provokes conflict.

A stroke with a whip will cut it in two or a clod of earth disable it. But such is its malignity that it will in vite attack by every device at its command, staking its own life on the mere chance of its adversary coming within the little circle of its power. At most the radius of this circle is twelve inches. Within it at any point lies certain death, and on the bare hope of hand or foot trespassing with in its reach the Echis carinata throws its body into a figure of eight coil. Then it attracts attention by rubbing its loops together, which, from the roughness of the scales, make a rustling, hissing sound, erects its head in the center and awaits attack.

It is said that no one, having once encountered this terrible reptile, can ever forget its horrifying aspect when thus aroused. Its eagerly aggressive air, its restless coils, which, in constant motion one over the other and rustling ominously all the while, stealthily but surely bring it nearer and nearer to the object of its fury.—Harper's.

THE WORD MELODRAMA.

Originally Meant a Play in Which Music Was Introduced.

Nowadays "melodrama" is in general use as denoting a purely sensational play, with an all but impossible heroine and villain among the characters represented. Formerly the word kept more closely in its significance to actual derivation. "Melodrama" is compounded of the Greek words melos, a song, and drama, an action, a play, and was applied to two sorts of performances when it first came into use.

It signified a play, generally of the romantic school, in which the dialogue was frequently relieved by music, sometimes of an incidental and sometimes of a purely dramatic character. On the strength of his "Pygmalion" J. Rousseau is credited with the invention of this style. Some of the so-called English operas of the older school, such as the once famous "Beggar's Opera" and the once popular "No Song, No Supper," are in reality true melodramas.

In the second place "melodrama" was applied to a peculiar kind of the atirical composition in which the actor recited his part in an ordinary speaking voice, while the orchestra played a more or less elaborate accompaniment appropriate to the situation and calculated to bring its salient features into the highest possible relief. The merit of the invention of this description of melodrama belongs to George Benda, who used it with striking effect in his "Ariadne auf Naxos," produced at Gotha in 1774.—London Globe.

CANALS IN ENGLAND.

They Had Their Origin in a Matrimonial Disappointment.

The British system of artificial inland navigation, which includes several thousand miles of canal, may be said to have had its origin in a matrimonial disappointment. The Duke of Bridgewater, the originator of the system, was engaged to be married just after he had attained his majority. A dispute arising between the couple, the match was broken off. The duke's chagrin changed the course of his life. He gave his first and last ball to the London world of fashion and then buried himself among his coal fields at Worsley. Eschewing the society of women, he refused even to employ them as servants in his manor house.

Disappointed in marrying the most beautiful woman in England, he determined to unite by means of a canal his coal fields with Manchester, then beginning its career as a manufacturing town. In those days good roads were the exceptions, bad roads the rule. The cottons of Manchester and the woolsens of Leeds were conveyed from place to place on pack horses, which jogged along in single file. The freight charge from Leeds to London was $63 a ton. When the duke's canal was finished the prices of coal and other commodities in Manchester fell one-half.

The success of this canal started the duke to build one which would connect Manchester with Liverpool. To procure the funds he reduced his personal expenses to £400 a year. So straitened was he at times that the London bankers hesitated to discount his note for £500. Sometimes when "hard up" he would send his steward upon a collecting tour among the tenants of the duke's estates. The steward would ride from tenant to tenant, getting £5 here and £10 there. When he had collected money enough he would return and pay the canal laborers their weekly wages. In a few years, however, the duke's canals paid him an annual revenue of £80,000.—New York Press.

The History of "Stepmother."

"Stepmother" is a word with a commonly unsuspected history. Probably most people if called upon to explain it would say that it meant a woman who had stepped into the place of the true mother. Dr. Johnson, at any rate, believed that this was the suggestion of the word to most minds. Really, "step" is the Anglo-Saxon "steop," the original meaning of which appears to have been "orphaned." Stepchild, step-bairn, stepson and stepdaughter came first, and then by gradual fading of the etymological meaning of "step" stepfather and stepmother came into being.—London Chronicle.

Japanese Landowners.

A landowner in Japan owns the surface and products of the land only. All minerals under the surface appertain not to him, but to the Japanese government. Moreover, should the government or its nominee wish to extract the minerals lying under a landowner's property the latter, though he would, of course, receive compensation for loss, cannot object on legal ground to the development of these minerals.—British Consular Report.

Denmark's Outdoor Theater.

Denmark has probably the finest natural outdoor theater in the world. It is situated in the royal deer park about six miles out of the capital. There the avenues of mighty trees serve as wings and background to a stage fronted by a beech encircled slope that forms a perfect auditorium. Eight thousand people can be accommodated at every performance.

Familiar Quotations.

One of the most familiar quotations from the Bible which are not to be found there upon research is "the lion lying down with the lamb." The spirit of the reference is correct enough, but turn up the passage in Isaiah and you will find: "The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf and the young lion and the fattening together." The popular mind has condensed the zoological miscellany, and to the incorrect version alliteration has no doubt contributed.—Exchange.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP.

The majority of men recognize nothing in human affairs as good unless it yields some return, and they love those friends most from whom they hope to obtain the most profit. Thus they lack that loveliest and most natural form of friendship which is sought for its own sake only, nor do they know from experience how beautiful and how lofty such friendship is.

A VICIOUS COLONY

England's Penal Settlement in the Andaman Islands.

LIFE CONVICTS FROM INDIA.

Often the Most Desperate Prisoners Kill One Another, While Others Fall Victims to the Native Head Hunters, to Whom Murder Is Sport.

Frederick Taylor, F. R. G. S., writing in the Century Magazine about life in the Andaman Islands, says:

"The sailing of the Maharaja from Calcutta for the Andaman Islands was not accompanied by the usual goodbyes and handkerchief waving, for my fellow passengers there were seventy to whom no one wished bon voyage or a safe return. These were convicts, all murderers under life sentences, who for some reason had escaped the death penalty, and included six women, for the Maharaja is the ship used by the colonial Indian government to transport convicts to the penal settlements near Port Blair, South Andaman Island, a distance of 650 miles from Calcutta.

"The prisoners were all manacled and shackled about the ankles, with chains fastened to hands at the wrist. They were a despicable lot. At night a continual moaning and cursing and hopeless sobbing came up from the hatches and made sleep out of the question for me, though the European officer in the steamer's cabin apparently slept undisturbed. Early the first morning I went on deck and learned that two of the male prisoners were ill and had been brought up to the deck for air. They were closely guarded, and new recruits were stationed at the railing to prevent them from committing suicide by jumping overboard into the Huzel river.

"The Andamans are literally the homes of murderers. The inhabitants are the most vicious members of an older civilization and the uncivilized head hunters, among whom murder is a sport and a pastime. In the settlement are about 1,700 prisoners, including 800 women. On arriving at Port Blair the prisoners first spend six months in solitary confinement in the cellular jail of Viper Island. They are then transferred to one of the associated jails and the comparative blessing of hard labor in company with others, though still occupying separate cells at night. After a year and a half of this they become slaves, working in and about the settlement during the day and sleeping in barracks at night, always closely guarded. At the expiration of five years a convict becomes eligible to join the colony of 'self supporters' and live in the village, where he earns his living in his chosen way, lives in his own house and can send for his wife and children or marry a convict woman. In a limited sense he becomes a paterfamilias, but is always carefully watched and cannot leave the settlement without permission.

"Despite the rigid discipline and the vigilance of the authorities the communal life is far from harmonious, and the more vicious often rebel. The murderers kill one another and are in turn murdered by the treacherous Andamanese, who regard the hapless convicts and their guards as their natural prey. Occasional attempts at escape are made by the prisoners, but the efforts inevitably prove disastrous. The fugitive, finding his conditional freedom worse than servitude, either dies at the hands of the Jarawa warriors, falls a victim to fever or other disease or starves. There is also a system in vogue by which the more friendly tribes of savages co-operate with the authorities in capturing escaped convicts and receive rewards for the return of the unhappy deserters. More often, however, the head hunters kill the fugitive and return only the head, receiving the reward just the same, the killing adding zest to the chase and the return of the head being the easiest and quickest way of earning the reward.

"Under these conditions there are few attempts at escape, though many remarkably hazardous dashes for liberty have been made from time to time, which, though futile, were most daring. Some time ago the steamer Fulata picked up a poor, emaciated wretch who was sighted on a small bamboo raft off the Arakan coast. He was later found to be an escaped convict. When picked up he had been on the raft for twenty-nine days during one of the southwest monsoons and had secured water by catching the rain and sucking it from his turban and loincloth. He lived upon flying fish that flew about the raft, eating them raw. He was swept off the raft many times by the waves, but had managed to cling to it. After a month in a hospital at Rangoon he was returned to prison and solitary confinement.

"Another daring attempt at escape was made by a party of six convicts who were sent with two native policemen to a small island off the middle Andaman to work. They managed to escape from the guards and, hoisting the sail of the small boat, started out in a gale. After seven days of heavy weather they were dashed upon the rocks of the Tennasserim coast, and the boat was wrecked. All escaped with their lives and eventually reached the Siamese border, where they were apprehended by the local authorities and returned to the prison."

On the strength of his "Pygmalion" J. J. Rousseau is credited with the invention of this style. Some of the so-called English operas of the older school, such as the once famous "Beggars Opera" and the once popular "No Song, No Supper," are in reality true melodramas.

In the second place "melodrama" was applied to a peculiar kind of theatrical composition in which the actor recited his part in an ordinary speaking voice, while the orchestra played a more or less elaborate accompaniment appropriate to the situation and calculated to bring its salient features into the highest possible relief. The merit of the invention of this description of melodrama belongs to George Henda, who used it with striking effect in his "Ariadne auf Naxos," produced at Gotha in 1774.—London Globe.

CANALS IN ENGLAND.

They Had Their Origin in a Matrimonial Disappointment.

The British system of artificial inland navigation, which includes several thousand miles of canal, may be said to have had its origin in a matrimonial disappointment. The Duke of Bridgewater, the originator of the system, was engaged to be married just after he had attained his majority. A dispute arising between the couple, the match was broken off. The duke's chagrin changed the course of his life. He gave his first and last ball to the London world of fashion and then buried himself among his coal fields at Worsley. Eschewing the society of women, he refused even to employ them as servants in his manor house.

Disappointed in marrying the most beautiful woman in England, he determined to unite by means of a canal his coal fields with Manchester, then beginning its career as a manufacturing town. In those days good roads were the exceptions, bad roads the rule. The cottons of Manchester and the woollens of Leeds were conveyed from place to place on pack horses, which jogged along in single file. The freight charge from Leeds to London was $63 a ton. When the duke's canal was finished the prices of coal and other commodities in Manchester fell one-half.

The success of this canal started the duke to build one which would connect Manchester with Liverpool. To procure the funds he reduced his personal expenses to £400 a year. So straitened was he at times that the London bankers hesitated to discount his note for £500. Sometimes when "hard up" he would send his steward upon a collecting tour among the tenantry of the ducal estates. The steward would ride from tenant to tenant, getting £5 here and £10 there. When he had collected money enough he would return and pay the canal laborers their weekly wages. In a few years, however, the duke's canals paid him an annual revenue of £80,000.—New York Press.

The History of "Stepmother."

"Stepmother" is a word with a commonly unsuspected history. Probably most people if called upon to explain it would say that it meant a woman who had stepped into the place of the true mother. Dr. Johnson, at any rate, believed that this was the suggestion of the word to most minds. Really, "step" is the Anglo-Saxon "steop," the original meaning of which appears to have been "orphaned." Stepchild, step-brother, stepson and stepdaughter came first, and then by gradual fading of the etymological meaning of "step" stepfather and stepmother came into being.—London Chronicle.

Japanese Landowners.

A landowner in Japan owns the surface and products of the land only. All minerals under the surface appertain not to him, but to the Japanese government. Moreover, should the government or its nominee wish to extract the minerals lying under a landowner's property the latter, though he would, of course, receive compensation for loss, cannot object on legal ground to the development of these minerals.—British Consular Report.

Salmon.

The average four-year-old salmon weighs from twenty-five to thirty pounds.

Denmark's Outdoor Theater.

Denmark has probably the finest natural outdoor theater in the world. It is situated in the royal deer park about six miles out of the capital. There the avenues of mighty trees serve as wings and background to a stage fronted by a beech encircled slope that forms a perfect auditorium. Eight thousand people can be accommodated at every performance.

Positively Brutal.

Grace—Just see how much your little wife loves you. She made this cake for you all by herself. Arthur—Yes, my darling. And now if you will eat it all by yourself I shall possess indisputable proof of your devotion.—Pittsburgh Press.

Heartless.

Gritty Pike—It's a heartless world, pard. Think what a woman done when I asked her to give me something to keep body and soul together! Muddy Lanes—Can't imagine. Gritty Pike—She gimme a safety pin.—Chicago News.

An Exception.

"Take my advice and mind your own affairs. No man ever got rich fighting other people's battles."

"I don't know. How about a lawyer?"—Boston Transcript.

Irene Gold, the Girl With the Band Voice, at the Opera House Tonight

Familiar Quotations.

One of the most familiar quotations from the Bible which are not to be found there upon research is "the lion lying down with the lamb." The spirit of the reference is correct enough, but turn up the passage in Isaiah and you will find: "The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf and the young lion and the fattening together." The popular mind has condensed the zoological miscellany, and to the incorrect version alliteration has no doubt contributed.—Exchange.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP.

The majority of men recognize nothing in human affairs as good unless it yields some return, and they love those friends most from whom they hope to obtain the most profit. Thus they lack that loveliest and most natural form of friendship which is sought for its own sake only, nor do they know from experience how beautiful and how lofty such friendship is.

AFTER NEXT CONVENTION

Brainerd Delegates to St. Cloud Intend Getting December 1912 Gathering in Brainerd

CROSBY & DEERWOOD DELEGATES

Northern Minnesota Development Association Meeting is Exciting Much Interest

Brainerd intends seriously to go after the next annual convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association to be held December, 1912. This is the important meeting which convenes just before the legislature assembles.

Brainerd is centrally located. Its hotels are excellent and the accommodations were commented on by all the delegates when they were here last year. Since that time another large hotel has been opened to the public. The club rooms of the Commercial club will be thrown open to the visitors and may be used for committee meetings, social gatherings and other convenient purposes. These quarters, by the way, are second to none in the state. The Western Union Telegraph offices are now located on the main floor of a room in the First National bank block and are most convenient of access, making it desirable in location and convenient for all the numerous newspaper correspondents who will come to report the convention. Brainerd has entertained one gathering and knows just what to do next time.

Brainerd is centrally located and easily reached by all attending the meeting. There are no disturbing side features. Delegates coming to Brainerd come here to attend to important business. The convention, when it is held in this city, is the sole attraction, the great and only event in the county seat at that time. There is nothing else to distract the attention of the delegate and cause him to amble away on an excursion and forget what he was sent to the meeting for.

By all means, Miss Northern Minnesota Development association, "Come to Brainerd in 1912. We shall be glad to have you here."

Crosby has elected its delegate to the St. Cloud meeting, M. F. Crosby, the mayor of Crosby and president of the school board. The alternates are Henry Spalding, proprietor of the celebrated Spalding hotel known all over the Cuyuna range and northern Minnesota and W. A. Guith, a member of the firm of drill contractors and real estate men, Gaylord & Guith. In addition to the delegate and alternates the Crosby Commercial club will send a large delegation including mining men, business and professional men.

Deerwood's delegate is Judge Jas. T. Hale, a former resident of Duluth, who is mayor of Deerwood and has large interests on the Cuyuna Iron range. The alternates are C. H.

GUILTY OF MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE

Special to the Dispatch:
Springfield, Mass., November 25.—After being out twenty-four hours the jury in the case of Bertram G. Spencer, charged with the murder of Miss Martha B. Blackstone, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree.

The killing of Miss Blackstone came as a climax to a series of sensational robberies to all of which Spencer confessed. Up to the time of his arrest Spencer was considered a man of exemplary character.

Adams, the owner of the Adams hotel at Deerwood and at present residing in Brainerd and E. A. Lamb, who has realty interests in Deerwood and Ironton. In addition the Deerwood Commercial club will send a representative gathering of business, professional and mining men.

Brainerd's delegates will be three and of these it is certain that Judge C. A. Allbright, who is the president of the Crow Wing county development association, a member of one of the committees of the Northern Minnesota Development association and one of the most earnest boosters for good roads in the county, will be one of the representatives.

Brainerd's Commercial club and its citizens in all walks of life will be well represented, which is necessary if the next annual convention is to be swung to Brainerd.

In an interview with Judge W. S. McClenahan, the jurist said: "I think there will be nothing in court matters to interfere with any lawyers attending the St. Cloud gathering, so far as I know at present. The grand jury meets December 5 and a preliminary call of the calendar will be held that day. The Dumas case is the first matter up on December 6 and as both sides are anxious for a trial there seems no cause for delay."

This information from the judge assures the attendance of many lawyers of the city and county who are deeply interested in the work of the Northern Minnesota Development association and who can now attend the meeting without fear of neglecting their professional duties.

DECEMBER TERM WILL BE BUSY

District Court Convenes Tuesday, December 5, Judge W. S. McClenahan Presiding

DUMAS TRIAL STARTS DEC 6

Judge Stanton Will Hear Itasca Cedar & Tie Co. Vs McKinley on December 19th

The coming December term of the district court promises to be one of the longest terms of court ever held in Crow Wing county. Court convenes on Tuesday, December 5, with Judge W. S. McClenahan presiding.

The grand jury meets that day and goes into session. Judge McClenahan will have a preliminary call of the cases on the calendar, which will give a general idea of the work to be done during the term.

On Wednesday morning, December 6, the trial of Dr. Delbert F. Dumas, the mayor of Cass Lake, accused of aiding and abetting in the setting on fire of a building in Blackduck, will take place. No one knows to a certainty how long this case will last.

At Bemidji the Puposky case brought against Dr. Dumas did not last so very long if one omits the numerous recesses it was found necessary to take. The state had 43 witnesses at Bemidji and the defendant 12 or 15. Their testimony was taken in four days. The most time was spent in getting a jury, several venires being necessary. No such difficulty is anticipated in Brainerd.

The state and the defendant have expressed themselves as anxious for a speedy trial and it is believed that the actual trial of the case after the jury is selected will not be long.

On December 19th Judge C. W. Stanton leaving Grand Rapids, will take up in Brainerd the case of the Itasca Cedar & Tie Co. vs McKinley, a case once heard by Judge McClenahan and in which a new trial was ordered. This case may last seven or eight days as there is a mass of testimony to be heard.

Judge McClenahan will hear the rest of the calendar. Among the interesting cases to come up is the appeal taken by ten local taxpayers from the action of the city council in allowing the balance of the Ritari Third avenue paving bill. This, it is believed, is the first time such a procedure has come before the court and the case will review the entire matter. The transcript of the records embracing certified copies of motions, minutes, committee reports, estimates, contracts, bids and every other feature referring to the paving, has been filed by City Clerk Roderick with Clerk of Court W. A. M. Johnston.

To Prospective Students

Every desk in the college is now occupied and no more students can be accommodated until after Thanksgiving. Thirty-five new commercial desks have arrived and are being put into place. The chairs will be here sometime next week. I hope it will not inconvenience you to put off entering until the Monday after Thanksgiving. Quite a number are planning to enroll at that time and everything points to a big increase in attendance. I regret that the school cannot accommodate you but hope to see you the first Monday in December. In the meantime remember the Little Falls Business college is the school for you.

K. C. INITIATION AT BEMIDJII NOV. 30

Brainerd Degree Team Will Confer Three Degrees on Class There Thanksgiving Day

GO NORTH IN TWO COACHES

The Class of 60 Comes From International Falls and Bemidji and Will be Big Event

On November 29 at midnight the Brainerd degree team of the Knights of Columbus, and numerous members of the local lodge of knights will leave in two sleepers for Bemidji where they will exemplify on Thanksgiving day the three degrees necessary to fully initiate a class of 60 candidates recruited from Bemidji and International Falls.

It will be an event of great importance in Knights of Columbus circles for among the knights present will be delegations from St. Cloud, Moorhead, Duluth, Fargo, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other cities.

Of the lodges in this state there are three which have degree teams, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Brainerd, and Brainerd is proud of the fact of having been selected to confer the degrees. The team has 22 or more members and all are proficient in their parts. Brainerd has also been honored in these lodge circles by the fact that one of its members, J. J. Nolan, was appointed district deputy.

The Brainerd delegation arrives in Bemidji early Thanksgiving day morning and returns to Brainerd on the Thursday midnight train.

OPERA HOUSE FILLED

Benefit Performance For Striking Railway Shopmen Was a Great Success Last Evening

The benefit performance given at the Brainerd opera house Friday evening for the striking shopmen of the Illinois Central and Harriman lines was a great success and every seat in the opera house, main floor, galleries and boxes, was taken. It is estimated that over 700 people saw the performance and each paid for his seat. The total number of tickets sold is much in excess of this, it is believed.

The program was given as published in the Dispatch and every number received liberal applause and assisted to make it an evening of rare enjoyment and entertainment. The opera house, through the courtesy of Manager Tom Brown, was donated for the evening's performance. Two numbers, "The Girl With the Band Voice" and the Fasset Trio in "A Glorious Fourth," were by vaudeville actors playing a regular performance at the opera house. The moving pictures were also supplied by Mr. Brown and included films at the opening and close of the program. The Imperial Quartette sang a selection and was followed by Alderman R. A. Henning who gave a short outline of the struggle of the shopmen of the Illinois Central and Harriman lines who are seeking recognition of the federated labor movement. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Brown sang a duett and Rev. Chas. Fox Davis gave a reading of the "Tale of the Sea," by Walter R. Sims. Prof. Wm. Graham's cornet solo was something out of the ordinary and his technique evidenced by the many difficult runs, high notes and triple tonguing, coupled with his soft, voice-like tones caught the favor of the audience.

Animal Life on Venus

The final decision is that there is no high type of animal life on Venus. At the same time it is claimed that Venus is the only planet upon which life might exist. She is about the same in size and general conditions as the earth, but has a much more dense atmosphere, which precludes the idea of life in the type of man. Later it is admitted it may come. Without man Venus would hardly be a pleasant place to live, especially as man makes golden grain belt beers, the peer of them all, costing more to make than any. The Class of 60 Comes From International Falls and Bemidji and Will be Big Event

On November 29 at midnight the Brainerd degree team of the Knights of Columbus, and numerous members of the local lodge of knights will leave in two sleepers for Bemidji where they will exemplify on Thanksgiving day the three degrees necessary to fully initiate a class of 60 candidates recruited from Bemidji and International Falls.

It will be an event of great importance in Knights of Columbus circles for among the knights present will be delegations from St. Cloud, Moorhead, Duluth, Fargo, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other cities.

Of the lodges in this state there are three which have d-degree teams. St. Paul, Minneapolis and Brainerd, and Brainerd is proud of the fact of having been selected to confer the degrees. The team has 22 or more members and all are proficient in their parts. Brainerd has also been honored in these lodge circles by the fact that one of its members, J. J. Nolan, was appointed district deputy.

The Brainerd delegation arrives in Bemidji early Thanksgiving day morning and returns to Brainerd on the Thursday midnight train.

OPERA HOUSE FILLED

Benefit Performance For Striking Railway Shopmen Was a Great Success Last Evening

The benefit performance given at the Brainerd opera house Friday evening for the striking shopmen of the Illinois Central and Harriman lines was a great success and every seat in the opera house, main floor, galleries and boxes, was taken. It is estimated that over 700 people saw the performance and each paid for his seat. The total number of tickets sold is much in excess of this, it is believed.

The program was given as published in the Dispatch and every number received liberal applause and assisted to make it an evening of rare enjoyment and entertainment. The opera house, through the courtesy of Manager Tom Brown, was donated for the evening's performance. Two numbers, "The Girl With the Band Voice" and the Fasset Trio in "A Glorious Fourth," were by vaudeville actors playing a regular performance at the opera house. The moving pictures were also supplied by Mr. Brown and included films at the opening and close of the program. The Imperial Quartette sang a selection and was followed by Alderman R. A. Henning who gave a short outline of the struggle of the shopmen of the Illinois Central and Harriman lines who are seeking recognition of the federated labor movement. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Brown sang a duet and Rev. Chas. Fox Davis gave a reading of the "Tale of the Sea," by Walter R. Sims. Prof. Wm. Graham's cornet solo was something out of the ordinary and his technique evidenced by the many difficult runs, high notes and triple tonguing, coupled with his soft, voice-like tones caught the favor of the audience.

Animal Life on Venus

The final decision is that there is no high type of animal life on Venus. At the same time it is claimed that Venus is the only planet upon which life might exist. She is about the same in size and general conditions as the earth, but has a much more dense atmosphere, which precludes the idea of life in the type of man. Later it is admitted it may come. Without man Venus would hardly be a pleasant place to live, especially as man makes golden grain belt beers, the peer of them all, costing more to make than any. Order of Walter Bolton, Tel. 179J4, Brainerd, Minn.

RECEIVES MORE EQUIPMENT

Ridley Gymnasium Now Supplied With Basket Ball Outfit, Boxing Gloves, Punching Bag, Etc

Ridley's gymnasium has received a lot of new equipment for the classes which will make the "gym" their headquarters to develop their muscles and bodies. Among the paraphernalia received is a new basket ball outfit, new boxing gloves, punching bag, medicine balls, horizontal bars, wrestling mats, etc. The equipment received certainly places the gymnasium in the front rank in institutions of this kind in the northwest.

The business men's class starts Monday afternoon from four to six. Monday, Wednesday and Friday are general class nights from 7:30 to 9:30 P. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday are ladies days. Tuesday afternoon, Thursday evening and Saturday afternoon Mr. Ridley has a special instructor for the business men's class and a first class Turkish bath rubber for the gentlemen, who can be found there at all times.

The three days set aside for ladies are strictly private and a first class lady attendant will be present. Extra heat is maintained in the swimming room which makes that warm at all times.

Hard to Get Into Jail.

There was a queer old specimen of humanity brought to the Cuyahoga county jail. He had been convicted of the crime of cruelty to animals, and there was no doubt in anybody's mind that he richly deserved the penalty inflicted. It is the custom to examine prisoners, however, before they are assigned to their cells. When this old reprobate was brought up the interrogation went thus:

"What is your name?"
"Budd Dobbs."
"What is your age?"
"Sixty-eight."
"What is your religion?"
"Great snakes! Does a man hatter git religion before they'll let him inter fall in this county?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

STEAMER LOAD OF BIG GAME

Returning Nimrods Say Hunting Best In Years.

Duluth, Nov. 25.—Perhaps the greatest consignment of big game that ever came to Duluth reached here on the steamer Eastman, which brought twenty moose carcasses and more than forty deer. The animals were shot along the north shore and the hunters returning say the hunting is the best in years.

One of the prizes of the entire load was an immense bull moose shot by Frank Berry. The animal weighed nearly 1,600 pounds undressed and was perfect in hide and antlers.

All Happens in a Second.

A second is the smallest division of time in general use, and when we consider that in one year there are about 31,558,000 of these periods it would certainly seem as if it was enough for all practical purposes. But, after all, a good deal can happen in the fraction of a second.

A light wave, for instance, passes through a distance of about 186,000 miles in this length of time. A current of electricity has probably an even greater speed. The earth in itself moves in its orbit at a rate of about twenty miles a second.

A tuning fork of the French standard vibrates 570 times per second to produce the note A on the treble staff.

Good Hearted Cabbage.

A well known expert in cooking encountered trouble in a suburban community the other afternoon when she prepared to lecture at the Mothers' club. Her subject was "How to Cook." She began by telling how much a man appreciates good cooking and then she proposed to give various recipes.

Among the first was one for cold-slaw. "To have this best," began the lecturer, "take a good hearted cabbage and—"

At this point a young matron interrupted. She was eager to get all the information possible. "Tell me, please," she spoke up, "how is one to know the disposition of a cabbage?"—Philadelphia Times.

Benefits From Running.

Running is the great beautifier of figure and movement. It gives muscular development, strong heart action and free lung play. The muscle comes where it ought to be, the shoulders go back, the loins hold the trunk well balanced, and the feet take their correct positions. It was running which made the Greek figure. The more active tribes of American Indians have been runners from time immemorial, and from the chest to the heels they are much more beautifully built than the average of white men. Running people have usually the firm but elastic texture which is the beauty of flesh.—Exchange.

The Habit of Acquisition.

"It beats me," said the philosopher, "that people will keep piling up money long after they have several times as much as they'll ever be able to use." Then he went out for a walk. Passing a bookstore, he saw half a dozen very cheap books, which, however, he knew he hadn't time to read and doubted very much if he ever would have time to read. But they were cheap, and he bought them and sent them home to be added to his library, which already contained several times as many books as he would ever have time to read.

Nevertheless he continued to wonder at the senseless accumulation of money.—New York Times.

The Formation of Gold.

The Indians have a theory concerning the formation of gold. It was formed after the deluge. The deluge was about the time when the leaves of the trees were turning yellow. The winds came before this flood and blew the leaves in all directions. Where the leaves lodged at the time of the deluge is where the gold is now found. The gold is found in two forms—in nuggets and in leaf form. The nuggets were formed by the leaves blowing and whirling into small nuggets, as they are now found. Where the gold is found in leaf form are the places where the leaves were buried by the washing of sand and rock by the waters of the flood.—Red Man.

The Stepmother in the Classics.

The ancients were as bitter on the subject of the stepmother as any modern could be. Their metaphorical uses of these words for a stepmother are cruelly significant. Thus the Romans had an expression "to complain to a stepmother" (moverca), meaning to complain in vain, and "nevera," beginning no doubt as slang, came to be a recognized term for rough pieces of land or for ditches which drained off the water imperfectly and slowly. The Greeks were as bad with their word "metrix." Hesiod spoke of lucky and unlucky days as "mother and step-mother days," and Aeschylus brands a dangerous seacoast as "a stepmother to ships."—London Chronicle.

Island of Patmos.

Commercialism has somewhat dimmed the romance of the island of Patmos, to which the Apostle John was exiled. There he saw the visions of the Apocalypse. The island is rocky, barren, containing sixteen square miles. On a mountain stands the monastery of John the Divine, built in 1083. Greek sponge fishers to the number of about 4,000 inhabit the island, which is now under Turkish rule, and by unrelenting energy manage to earn little more than enough to eke out their existence.

JOHNSON FOR LA FOLLETTE

California Executive Demands People Name Choice for President.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 21.—Governor Johnson in a formal statement came out squarely for La Follette for president and a direct presidential primary. Declaring that while a "joker" in the primary law of 1909 gave the party in power full right to send a solid delegation to La Follette the governor indicated that he was sacrificing politics to principle and would insist that the people be given the right to name first hand their choice for president.

DAKOTA BUSINESS COLLEGE

Every person needs a business education and it costs no more to get it at this great Business and Shorthand Training School, under exact office conditions, than at one of the small questionable ones. The results are, however, very different. 350 D. B. C. pupils went to excellent positions in banks and offices this year—over 400 will do so next year. All Fargo banks and 635 others employ D. B. C. pupils as cashiers, tellers or bookkeepers. No other school offers such endorsement.

Our $50 course prepares for business life, or for position as clerk or bookkeeper. Our new $85 course in Commerce and Banking (endorsed by Bankers' Association) supplies cashiers and tellers for the Northwestern banks, and bookkeepers and credit men for the larger concerns. The shorthand course (under an expert reporter) trains court reporters and high grade stenographers. The stenographers for the U. S. District Court, N. D. Supreme Court, 3d Judicial District and the Cass Co. Court are D. B. C. pupils. Can other schools offer this proof of superior training?

The D. B. C. has built a magnificent new building (35,000 square feet of space) is seated with roll top desks, has 60 typewriters, adding machines, billers, money changers, etc. Our pupils deal with each other and with magnificently equipped offices, using aluminum money. Our courses are fascinating and practical. The Northwest has "No other school like the D. B. C." Next term begins soon. For booklet write. F. LELAND WATKINS, Pres., Watkins Bldg. Fargo, N. D.
